EIGHTH ARMY TAKES PERUGIA

Capture Puts Allies 75 Miles South of Florence; Elba Garrison Surrenders.

By The Associated Press

ROME, June 20—Allied forces pressing northward on the Italian mainland have entered Perugia, major communications center 72 miles air line southeast of Florence and 83 miles north of Rome, after the German position in the area had been weakened by the conquest of Elba by French colonial troops.

The French crushing the last stubborn resistance on Elba yesterday. The swift campaign netted 1,800 prisoners, all but a small portion of the enemy garrison.

Organized resistance on Elba collapsed with the capture of Porto Longone on the eastern shore of the historic island. The garrison of about 300 there hoisted a white flag and surrendered. Large quantities of materiel were abandoned by the enemy.

Resistance Is Spotty

Perugia was entered by Eighth army troops which were encountering spotting resistance today within the town. On both sides of the city, however, allied troops advanced a considerable distance, an Allied communique said.

Eighth army troops were wiping out nests of fierce resistance inside the old town. Despite rain which interferred with the movement of troops and transport the Eighth army advanced all along its front in the face of resistance at key points.

The Fifth army advanced more than nine miles north of Grosseto, which is some 22 miles beyond Orbetello.

Most of the prisoners taken on Elba were German and enemy losses in dead and wounded were estimated at 500.

Portoferraio, the island's capital, fell Sunday after an aerial bombardment.

The villa Napoleona at Monte San Martino was captured unharmed after hasty evacuation by the Germans.

(The German high command in its communique said the garrison of Elba was removed to the Italian mainland last night.)

Bricker Picks New Support with Home Stretch Near

Maryland Delegate Declares He Will Back Ohioan; Dewey Revealed as Willing To Accept Nomination.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, JUNE 20—New York admirers lifted the wraps today on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, leading contender in the Republican presidential race, but Gov. Bricker of Ohio picked up new support in what his friends hope may be a winning stretch run.

The New York governor emerged as an all-but-avowed aspirant for the nomination after a jammed news conference yesterday in which J. Russell Sprague, national committeeman, Edwin F. Jaeckle, state chairman, and Herbert Brownell Jr., twice Dewey's campaign manager, clubbed together on the opinion their favorite would be willing to head the ticket if the GOP wants him.

Their action in slipping off the blanket of silence which has surrounded Dewey's reaction to the nationwide draft campaign in his behalf went without comment from Bricker leaders here for the nominating convention next week. But in Maryland there was a break toward the Bricker stable some adherents thought was significant.

Baltimore Man for Bricker

Sheridan F. Smith of Baltimore, named a delegate by a Republican state convention that urged Dewey as a candidate, announced he would vote for Bricker on the first ballot. There were signs some others in the 16-vote delegation might follow this lead.

Rep. Carroll Reese (R-Tenn), a national committee member, said here Bricker undoubtedly had made a good impression on speaking tours and was showing new push.

"But," he added, "it is difficult to say whether any of this has been translated into delegate strength."

Against this, some of the delegates drifting in singly and in pairs for the opening session of the platform committee tomorrow brought along reports of widespread Dewey backing.

Senator Thomas (R-Idaho) told a reporter his state's 11 vote delegation, which was uninstructed, was solidly for Dewey.

"Every Idaho delegate is a Dewey man," Thomas declared. "Personally I'm for Gov. Earl Warren of California for vice president. We're going to draft Dewey and draft Warren, even if Warren doesn't want to run."

Warren Not in Race

Warren, convention keynoter, has said he does not want any delegate to vote for him for any federal office.

C. B. Kelland, Arizona national committeeman, voiced the opinion in a lobby interview that the west is "prediminately for Dewey."

Preserving Dewey's contention that he is not a candidate, Sprague told a press conference it was the opinion of New York Republi-

County's Service Honor Roll at Courthouse To Be Rebuilt

Marion county's honor roll of men and women in military service, located on the courthouse lawn, will be rebuilt and the names enclosed in glass.

Financial arrangements for the work were completed last night at a meeting of the trustees of the Marion Community Foundation, Inc., who approved an appropriation for the county War Finance committee to pay for the cost of the work. James R. Smith is chairman of the honor roll committee, assisted by Lewis Ashworth and John Smith.

Several factors resulted in the decision to rebuild the board and weatherproof it, officials said. One was the fact that there are now some 600 names to be added to the board, with room for only about 200. This would have made further extension of panels necessary, and the committee felt that instead of spending funds for that purpose, it would have the board rebuilt and enclosed.

Names will be placed in smaller letters to accommodate the approximately 4,500 names—representing approximately one out of every 10 persons in Marion county. There are about 100 women among the 4,500 in service from Marion county.

The outline of the board is expected to remain about the same, but the 4,500 names can be accommodated under the new arrangement without using either of the small panels at each end of the board. These panels will not be enlosed in glass at present, but will be left on the board for possible future use and can be enclosed when and if needed.

The work will be done by the Berg-Bland Co. and is expected to require several months.

Although plans for the distant future are not complete, it is expected the rebuilt board will be sufficiently permanent to serve for the duration and for enough years afterward that men and women coming back from service will have a chance to see it. Eventually it is believed a more permanent roll, with all names carefully checked and verified, will be put inside some public building to serve as a permanent memorial to the men and women who served in World war II.

RUSSIAN GUNS SHELL VIIPURI

Reds Turn Heavy Artillery on Chief Finnish City; Troops Draw Near.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, June 20—Reports reaching a reliable Swedish source said today that the Finns have yielded Viipuri to the Russians.

MOSCOW, June 20—Big guns of the Red army, only nine miles away and within sight of the Finnish seaport of Viipuri, poured salvo after salvo into its outskirts today.

Izvestia's correspondent Ivan Ossipov said Viipuri "is just ahead of the Red army" and that the speed of the "remarkable" offensive was increasing.

Maj. Nikolai Shvankov, Red Star correspondent, declared coastal defenses of the Finns along the gulf of Viipuri have collapsed and that Soviet sailors are threatening to cut off large numbers of the enemy in little peninsulas south of the city.

Outside Viipuri the Russians defeated the 18th and 10th Finnish infantry brigades, a fresh cavalry unit and a crack Finnish "Yellow regiment."

There were no indications in Moscow that the Finns are seeking to reopen peace negotiations. The people are not talking about it and the general view of the man-on-the-street is that the offensive is going splendidly and that soon the Red army will be at the 1940 Russo-Finnish treaty frontier, which is just 16 miles beyond Viipuri.

A Red fleet dispatch said Russian ships are pounding Finnish craft in the gulf of Viipuri and the gulf of Finland, sinking two transports totalling 14,000 tons. In Viipuri gulf two other Finnish transports were sunk, in addition to smaller craft. Heavy ships of the Baltic fleet are moving up the coastal road on the gulf of Finland and adding their weight to the assault on the city.

It appeared that the gulf of Finland was blocked and escape by water from Viipuri now was impossible.

MARION SOLDIER REPORTED MISSING

Wife of Pvt. C. E. Sweeney Receives Notice.

Pvt. Charles E. Sweeney of Marion has been reported missing in action in Italy since May 28, according to a telegram from the War Department, received by his wife, Mrs. Antoinette Sweeney of 591 Park street. He had been stationed with an infantry unit at Anzio Beachhead and according to word in a letter written to his wife on May 25, was being moved on to Rome.

Pvt. Sweeney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Sweeney of Chauncey, O. He is the brother of Miss Mary Helen Sweeney of Chauncey and Mrs. Robert Phillips of Patten street. Before entering the service on Sept. 22, 1943, he was employed at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. He has been overseas since March 20.

TOKYO REPORTS BATTLE STILL ON AT SAIPEN

Japs Lose 300 Planes in Biggest Air Clash Since Midway Encounter.

By The Associated Press

The great Saipan air battle—which already has cost Japan 300 aircraft — still is in progress, an enemy communique broadcast from Tokyo said today.

American carrier pilots and warship guns have destroyed an estimated 300 Japanese planes off Saipan to win the biggest Pacific air battle since Midway, while a land surge captured a vital airstrip and sealed off the southern end of the island.

In a vicious battle lasting several hours, the offshore task force smashed a sustained Japanese aerial assault Sunday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz at Pearl Harbor said first information reported only one American vessel damaged.

Japanese Claims

(Imperial Japanese headquarters declared, without confirmation, that 300 American planes were destroyed and a battleship, two cruisers, a destroyer and one submarine were sunk during the battle. A broadcast enemy communique also said Japanese airmen still were attacking the American ships.

(This claim may have been a follow-up to a Tokyo broadcast promising "that the Japanese navy in the near future will win a great naval victory in the central Pacific.")

With the land battle still raging to their north and southwest, Sea-Bees began preparing the newly-captured Aslito airstrip, on Saipan's southern coast—the first American air base within Japan's central Pacific middle defense arc. Its capture climaxed the long drive toward air bases strategically dominating the oceanic approaches to Tokyo.

Pushing through tangled canefields and swamps, American Marines and Army troops traversed the island on a wide front to reach Magicienne bay on the east coast, 3½ miles from the western landing beach. In this mile and one-half advance since Friday, some Japanese forces were cut off in the arrowhead of Nafutan point, Saipan's southeastern extremity.

Use Carrier Planes

The Japanese aerial thrust—their biggest since Midway—included some planes apparently based on distant carriers and using nearby shore bases for shuttle landings, the U. S. communique said.

It added that systematic American bombing and strafing of airfields on Guam and Rota "sharply limited" effectiveness of the Japanese shuttle land fields. Designation of these two islands, approximately 100 miles south of Saipan, indicated enemy carriers were some distance from the Marianas.

American forces hold a five-mile-long coastal strip on the western shoreline, where they have expanded from their original beachhead at Agingan point.

TRAPPED GERMANS ADVISED TO GIVE UP

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 20—German troops cut off at Cherbourg by the American advance were warned over BBC facilities today that their position was hopeless and that surrender would be their wisest move.

"Any attempt to evacuate you through the coastal waters of Cherbourg peninsula would be pure suicide," the Germans were told.

The warning, made in German by a British officer, reminded the Germans that other German troops under command of Col.-Gen. Juergen Von Arnim had been trapped by the same American Ninth division on the Cape Bon peninsula in Tunisia and had not regretted their decision to surrender.

"I am addressing myself to the German soldiers who have been cut off on the Cherbourg penin-

E BOND TOTAL MOVES UPWARD

County Now at 29 Per Cent of Quota; Residential Drive Ends Tonight.

Marion county today had bought 29 per cent of its E bond quota in the Fifth War Loan.

The total was pushed up to the $237,673.25 mark today by yesterday's sale of $34,106.25 in E bonds, and brought the county close to the one-third mark in its drive for the $819,000 E goal.

The residential campaign conducted by the civilian defense organization yielded orders for $4,950 in bonds last night, pushing this division's total up to $38,797 since the drive opened a week ago.

The residential division is scheduled to close its phase of the drive tonight when the air raid sirens blow for the last time at 7 o'clock. Workers will then make their final calls excepting in a few scattered cases where prospects are out of the city or are waiting to a later date to make their purchases.

Work Well Done

Drive leaders today voiced satisfaction with the thoroughness of the residential drive, and said they feel that every Marion family will have been asked personally to buy extra war bonds by the time the drive is over. W. E. Orcutt, chairman of the residential drive, emphasized that his workers were instructed to do a "selling job" and reach "every home," adding that he considered performing these two missions would represent a 100 per cent job for the workers, regardless of the amount of bonds sold. "All we can do is see everyone and pre-

RAF Blasted 1940 Invasion in Nazi Ports

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 20 — Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons today a German attempt to invade Britain in 1940 had been smashed before heavy concentrations of ships and troops were able to leave continental ports.

Churchill's statement came in response to a series of questions from the floor by Major Vyvyan Adams, who asked the prime minister if he could give the house details of a reported Nazi invasion attempt.

Churchill first said he had nothing to add to the government's previous non-committal replies, but when Adams asked whether "the enemy set in motion the apparatus of seaborne invasion," the prime minister said:

"I do not quite know what is meant by setting in motion. Setting in motion in the sense of crossing the channel, No, but setting in motion in the sense of making very heavy concentrations of troops and ships to cross the channel, Yes."

Laborite Emanuel Shinwell then asked:

"I suppose he (the prime minister) could say that if such an invasion was made, at any rate it was unsuccessful?"

Churchill smiled and answered, "Yes."

"Did any of this shipping ever emerge from ports across the channel?" Adams pressed.

"Not to my belief," the prime minister said. "A great deal of it was sunk in ports and then they changed their minds."

WASHINGTON, June 20—Loss of the submarine Grayback, presumably in operations against the Japanese in the far Pacific, was announced by the Navy today.

BOMBERS LAND IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, June 20—Twenty-one American heavy bombers from fleets raiding Germany today made forced landings in Sweden, the greatest number to land in this neutral country in a single day.

VALOGNES CAPTURED IN SWIFT ADVANCE ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, JUNE 20—American troops plunged within four miles of Cherbourg late today in an all-out offensive of mounting fury, and also seized Valognes, 10 miles southeast of the great harbor.

The veteran U. S. Ninth division spearheaded the deepest drive directly south of Cherbourg—a death pocket for perhaps up to 50,000 Nazis—advancing to St. Martin Le Grand only four miles away.

On the southeast approach to the transAtlantic port, other doughboys seized Valognes and pushed a mile beyond, and cleaned the Germans out of by-passed Montebourg, four miles from Valognes.

The Germans were falling back upon the inner perimeter of Cherbourg's defenses, Associated Press Correspondent Roger Greene said in a dispatch from U. S. field headquarters. He added the Germans fell back from Valognes "without attempting a major stand."

The power drive directly south of Cherbourg carried the Ninth division battering ram nearly six miles north of captured Bricquebec.

On the eastern coast of the trap tightening steadily on Cherbourg, an American column drove two miles north of Quineville.

Montebourg, won and lost by the Yanks in bitter street fighting and then by-passed in the push to Valognes, now has been completely occupied, supreme headquarters said.

Toward the eastern flank of the long Normandy front, British forces battling against a wall of Nazi armor struck two miles southwest of Tilly-Sur-Seulles and seized Hottot-Les-Bagues. Two Nazi counter-attacks aimed at relaking the town were beaten back.

U. S. forces on the west coast also made progress north of Barneville, where the first breakthrough was made sealing off the top of Cherbourg peninsula. Opposition in this sector was reported light.

The Germans have three semi-circular defense lines around Cherbourg, with the biggest stretching out six miles from the port. Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's offensive has pierced deep through this line and apparently has reached the second defense wall.

Air reconnaissance disclosed the Germans have been demolishing the port of Cherbourg and that it is in bad shape, indicating they had given up hope of holding it for very long.

There were indications the Germans were weaker on the western side of the peninsula than in the east. Heavy fighting has raged in the Montebourg-Valognes sector.

The all-out Cherbourg drive was coupled with what appeared to be the greatest air effort since the first days of the invasion, and more than 1,500 American heavy bombers bombed targets in Germany and the rocket-bomb platforms in the Pas-De-Calais area on the French coast.

Drawing new strength from other sectors of the Normandy beachhead, Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley sent his troops surging northward in what supreme headquarters called "coordinated attacks along the entire north front."

Over the heads of the advancing doughboys American big guns hurled streams of shells into the great port, France's third largest, defended by possibly 50,000 German troops now caught in the closing Yankee trap.

The deepest wedge was driven into the German ring of fortifications from the southwest. A column sweeping forward from captured Bricquebec, 11 miles below the port, hurled the Germans back to the outskirts of Rauville La Bigot, a village between six and seven miles south and slightly west of Cherbourg.

Communique No. 39 from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said other American columns to the east were driving forward in twin moves to flank Valognes, 10 miles southeast of Cherbourg, after sweeping around Montebourg and cutting off isolated pockets of Germans there.

The communique said the highway southwest of Bricquebec was cut two miles from Valognes.

Supreme headquarters said further advances have been made this morning of which news has not yet arrived.

While the Americans were marking up new gains, the British on their sector toward the eastern end of the beachhead once again drove the Germans from Tilly-Sur-Seulles, which has changed hands several times.

The American wedge across the Cherbourg peninsula now is 16 miles at its widest point and eight miles at its narroweat. Expanding to the north, Bradley's Yankees now are racing rapidly toward the main German defense line six miles south of the port.

It was expected that a matter of hours would show the strength of these defenses and whether the Germans can manage to swing the muzzles of the port's long-range guns from the sea to repeal a land attack.

The German - held channel islands have guns capable of

British Anti-Aircraft Gunners Getting Range of Buzz Bombs

By The Associated Press

LONDON, JUNE 20—Snap-shooting anti-aircraft gunners and relays of swooping fighter pilots blasted dozens of Nazi robot planes out of the sky overnight and the allies appeared to be getting the range on this new weapon today, the sixth of the "buzz-bomb" blitz.

The Germans tried a handful of the comet bombs June 13 but did not set the sustained attack going until June 15.

In one district alone four flying bombs were shot down by night fighters within a few minutes. Three exploded in the air in quick succession.

The Germans were launching the robots in no particular order. Sometimes as many as five came over almost together.

In daylight today the Germans kept winging the one-ton bombs into England at sporadic intervals. The British air ministry announced new and secret measures were being taken to wipe out the cross-channel attacks.

Attack Scale Reduced

As U. S. heavy bombers struck twice yesterday at the rocket emplacements around Pas De Calais the air ministry made known that six months of constant attacks had blasted so many of the launching platforms the pilotless bombs finally were put into operation on less than one-fourth the scale Hitler originally planned.

As Allied preventive measures got into full swing anti-aircraft gunners reported it was somewhat different firing at the rocket bombs than at regular planes. Sgt. Tom Pinckney, British veteran in charge of one gun crew, said they are faster moving targets than he

Temperature Here Drops 45 Degrees

Marionites shivered today as the result of one of the most abrupt temperature changes recorded here in recent years. From Sunday's high mark of 96 degrees here the mercury took a sudden drop to a low of 51 last night. Temperatures in the 50's were reported in the state after an all-time high of 101½ for June 18.

Relief from the heat will stick until at least tomorrow afternoon, it was predicted today at the Columbus weather bureau. Scattered showers are expected to come with the cool weather brought to Ohio by high winds yesterday.

DRIVER ARRESTED
Frank Gregory of near Upper Sandusky was fined $15 and costs when he appeared in mayor's court at Upper Sandusky Saturday night and pleaded guilty to a charge of operating his automobile without sufficient lights. When Gregory was arrested Saturday night, the only light on his vehicle was a headlight in which he had placed a parking bulb, state patrolmen said. Suspension of $10 of the fine was granted on the condition that Gregory present the car a week later with sufficient lights provided. He was arrested by state highway patrolmen on Route 23 south of Upper Sandusky.

OBITUARY
*Clay Huston Williams, son of Walter and Iva Williams, was born at Zanesfield, Ohio, May 4, 1903, and passed away last Wednesday morning, June 14, 1944.
He was married to Miss Emma Lorene Jones on October 26, 1925. To this union four daughters were born: Betty Lou, Nancy Jane, Janis Elaine and Carol Sue. A son, Raymond Neal, who died in infancy.
For the past two years Mr. Williams and his family have resided in Urbana, moving there from Marion, Ohio. For the past eighteen years he has worked for the Erie Railroad.
When a boy Mr. Williams attended the Quaker Church at Zanesfield but later went to the Methodist Sunday School. Just recently he and his family had made arrangements to unite with the Methodist Church at Urbana, but these arrangements had not been completed.
He was of a friendly disposition and was well liked by all who knew him. One who knew him quite well said of him, "He never had any enemies and was always good to his family. These beautiful floral tributes speak eloquently of his popularity." Three sprays came from his friends with whom he worked in Marion.
He leaves to mourn their loss, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams of Zanesfield, his wife and four daughters mentioned above; three brothers, Wanzer of Bowling Green, Lowell of Bellefontaine, Ralph of Zanesfield, and a sister, Mrs. John Clingerman, also of Zanesfield, and a large number of other relatives and friends.

Now the laborer's task is o'er;
Now the battle day is past;
Now upon the other shore
Lands the voyager at last.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

"Earth to earth, and dust to dust";
Calmly now the words we say;
Left behind we wait in trust,
For the resurrection day.
Father, in Thy gracious keeping
Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

We wish to thank our friends in Marion who sent floral tributes.
Mrs. Clay Williams and Daughters.

"ARE YOU MY DADDY?"

"YES, sonny boy, I'm your daddy—the daddy you don't remember because you were just a few months old when I left for war."

War is heartless, little man. It doesn't give much heed to family ties. But, along with millions of other men and women in uniform, your dad is doing everything he can to keep another war from starting when you're grown up and have children of your own.

It's more than good Americanism to invest in War Bonds... it's good business. Let's buy more Bonds than we planned, now during the 5th War Loan Drive... and let's keep on doing so!

Time was when summer meant hours to do all the things you didn't have time for during school months with studies over your head. Now the kids gather in bunches to find out who got the best job in war plant or office or to get the latest news on when the boys will be taken into service or where they are already stationed. Summer vacation used to mean a slowing the pace. Now the first day of vacation is the go-ahead signal.

Shade Trees

One of life's little mysteries to some of us is why owners of vacant lots around the city—lots on which the owners intend to build or to sell for home building use—don't plant a few more trees on them to have a good shady spot provided by the time the house is put there.

There are hundreds of persons who will readily agree that a couple good shade trees, large enough to do the job right, are worth $500 or more if they're in the right place. The right place, it would seem, could be determined approximately long before the architect is called in on the job, because the relative location of a house and the sun's rays can be quickly determined.

Naturally, the trees would have their greatest sales appeal about this time of year. On recent afternoons, it seemed that nothing would make a house more appealing than to have a couple of big trees, large enough to spread a cover of shade over most of the building.

It Never Fails

House cleaning time brings out life's little annoyances. Our pet peeve is to get to the basement or attic or atop a step ladder when the phone rings. Of course, it always stops before you get there. Next day someone will say, "I tried and tried to call you, but I guess there wasn't anyone there."

Lightning Bugs Busy

Lightning bugs were so thick the other evening in more open spots in Marion that they seemed to resemble sparks flying from a grindstone. Some one described it as looking like the little gadgets that we used to buy which made colored sparks when a wheel was turned.

Resting Spot

An appreciated spot of shade in the midst of rays of a hot summer sun was the broad shadowed colonnade of the post office front recently. An old gentleman with a cane was spied the other day seated peacefully on steps between two columns, evidently greatly enjoying a respite from the sun in the welcome oasis.

You Know the Answer

The following anecdote is taken from a letter written by a Marion man in the service.

"Aboard ship bound for the Caribbean sea, a group was gathered around the bulletin board. So rare was the occasion that to be satisfied I had to see too. There on the board was a brilliantly lithographed poster stolen from a railroad station asking, 'Is this trip REALLY necessary?'"

On the Run

We saw the top in bond sales methods recently when Bud Lawson breezed up on his bicycle to a stop light, planked one foot on the running board of a car and asked the friend inside, "Want to buy a bond?" The light changed just then so we don't know how he made out.

Following Through

A certain young lady of our acquaintance believes in cooperating in the fullest to insure honesty in the younger generation. The other night when a youngster of her neighborhood complained of being tired and asked to borrow a nickle to ride the bus a few blocks to see the races, in order to see that he used the money to go there instead of using it for any other purpose, she backed her car from the drive when she saw him running down the street, caught up with him and delivered him at the fairground, nickel and all!

Doubleheader

One Marion family that deal in eggs recently hit the jackpot on one product in particular. A report from the Henry Barrett family at Arlington and Bryant streets reveals that recently when they sold some eggs, one was the size known commonly to contain a double yolk. The sale wasn't completed however and when the curious couple opened the extra large shell, a second egg, perfectly formed with hard shell and all was inside making it truly an egg within an egg.

Famous Generals Help Make Former Marionite's Insignia Collection Grow

Lon L. Collins of South Buffalo, N. Y., formerly of Marion, has added several famous insignia to his collection since they were on display at Markert and Lewis on East Center street last fall.

At that time, Mr. Collins had about 90, but now insignia from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark and Gen. Henry H. Arnold have been added, making the collection truly noteworthy.

The collection was started in 1941 when Collins was a sergeant in the army. At that time he started picking up the little shoulder patches so his men would learn to recognize the various units. Later it became a hobby, and he continued to collect insignia. More recently he started writing to the various generals asking for their insignia.

Obliging General

Gen. Arnold's was the first to arrive. Since that time he has heard from Eisenhower, Clark and also Lt. Gen. James Doolittle. Mr. Collins wrote a letter of thanks to Gen. Arnold and asked him for the APO addresses of the other generals of the air forces. A second communication from Gen. Arnold was received May 28 with the addresses enclosed.

In a letter to a brother, William M. Collins of Bellebonstaine avenue, he enclosed a clipping from a Buffalo paper showing a picture of himself and his collection. The insignia are mounted on a board with a tiny printed description identifying each patch. In the picture he is holding letters and insignia from Gen. Eisenhower Lt. Gen. Clark and Gen. Arnold.

His mother, Mrs. Lenta Collins, lives at 588 Girard avenue. His wife, formerly Miss Mildred Wilcox of near Marion, is now in Buffalo.

Writes to Others

Mr. Collins has written to Gen. Montgomery of the British army and to the 13 generals of the various air forces.

To date he has collected 93 different patches. The collection is being displayed to the public in South Buffalo as an incentive to buy war bonds during the Fifth War Loan Drive.

Mr. Collins left Marion with Co. D, National Guard unit, and remained in service until his honorable discharge a few months ago. While in Marion he was employed at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. He is now working as detective for the Erie railroad.

U. S. War Correspondents Hit Beaches With Invasion Troops

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 20—Ernie Pyle, Scripps-Howard war correspondent, in a dispatch from the Normandy beachhead published today described hardships encountered by his fellow correspondents, who armed only with their typewriters, stormed ashore with the invasion forces and came through it red-eyed for want of sleep, aching in all their muscles and wondering why they still were alive.

Before invasion day, Pyle wrote the correspondents "had accepted it as a fact that not everybody would come through alive," but most of them came through unscathed.

After the landings, he said, they checked among themselves for news of how the correspondents generally had fared. They had heard one was killed. (Arthur Thorpe, naval correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph, British news agency, was killed in a sea action June 11.) Some had not been heard from and one or two were reported wounded.

Writers who had gone two days without sleep dropped exhausted on the ground and slept in wet clothes without blankets.

"Two of them in particular had been through all the frightful nightmares that the assault troops had experienced—because they had come ashore with them," Pyle wrote.

Hits Beach Early

"Don Whitehead (Associated Press correspondent) hit the beach with one regiment just an hour after H-hour, Thompson (Jack Thompson of the Chicago Tribune) at the same time landed with another regiment. They were on the beaches for more than four hours under that hideous cloudburst of shells and bullets.

"Jack Thompson said: 'You've never seen a beach like it before. Dead and wounded men were lying so thick you could hardly take a step. One officer was killed only two feet away from me.'"

Pyle also mentioned John (Tex) O'Reilly, New York Herald Tribune correspondent, who had ridden around for six hours in a boat waiting to get ashore. Pyle's dispatch went on:

"Whitehead was still asleep when I went to his fox-hole. I said, 'get up, you lazy so-and-so.' He started grinning without even opening his eyes, but he knew who it was.

"It was hard for him to wake up. He had been unable to sleep, from sheer exhaustion, and had taken a sleeping tablet.

"Don had managed to steal one blanket on the beach and had that wrapped around him. He had taken his shoes off for the first time in two days. His feet were so sore from walking in wet shoes and socks that he had to give them some air.

Tells of Hours on Beach

"Finally he began to get himself up. 'I don't know why I'm alive at all,' he said. 'It was really awful. For hours there on the beach the shells were so close they were throwing mud and rocks all over you. It was so bad that after a while you didn't care whether you got hit or not.'

"Whitehead had probably been in more amphibious landings than any other correspondent over here. I know of six he made, four of them murderously tough, and he said:

"'I think I have gone on one too many of these things—not because of what might happen to me personally, but I've lost my perspective. It's like dreaming the same nightmare over and over again, and when you try to write you feel that you have written it all before. You can't think of any new or different words to say it with.'

"I know only too well what he means. * * *"

Slumber Party Held by Y Friendly Indians

Twenty-four boys, members of the Y Friendly Indian Tribes, held a slumber party at the Y Friday night. The party started at 8 p. m. with games in the gym. A swim at 9 p. m. followed the games and all retired at 10. Spontaneous games and contests were held throughout the night as sleep failed to keep the young Indians under their blankets. An early morning swim was held at 8 a. m. and the Friendly Indians then went home to sleep.

Next event for the Friendly Indians will be a trip through the Moores Ross Dairy Wednesday afternoon. The trip will start from the Y at 1:30 p. m. Carl Wilmuth is in charge of the Friendly Indian activities.

SWINE HOLDOVERS EXCEED ALL RECORDS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 17—Accumulations of unsold hogs at the Chicago stockyards this week were so heavy that holdovers for three consecutive days exceeded all records.

By mid-week there was a week's slaughter supply in the yards. The Chicago livestock exchange advised farmers that an effort was being made to avoid an embargo, but that shipments must be curtailed.

Packing plants had large numbers of hogs in their slaughtering pens in addition to the unsold farmer-owned stock. A scarcity of skilled labor and shortened slaughtering hours made it impossible to absorb the arrivals.

Stocks of lard and other pork by-products have been piling up in storage. Lend lease, usually a reliable outlet for the surplus stocks, has curtailed purchases in last few months.

Reflecting the over-supply of swine, average prices at Chicago were more than a dollar lower than during the peak marketing season last winter.

The corn-hog ratio reported by the war food administration for the week ended June 10, was 10.9 as compared with 11.2 the previous week and 13.5 for the same period a year ago.

Strictly choice steers and yearlings sold strong to 25 cents higher this week with the top of $17.60 establishing a new high on the crop. Prices on hogs under 270 pounds were steady to weak, heavier weights and sows were off 25 cents this week. Severe sorting and close selection as to quality featured the week's trade on good and choice 180 to 270 pounders, supported by the government at $13.75. All lambs were in extremely meagre supply and all classes gained 25 cents for the week. The top was $16.35.

WOMAN OVERCOMES HER CONSTIPATION!

"Once Took Laxatives 3 or 4 Times a Week," She Says!

Are you, too, a disappointed "doser"? Then read this unsolicited letter!

"I'd started working nights, and with my way of living changed around, I soon found I was taking 3 or 4 laxatives a week, and feeling terrible. Then I heard about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN through your radio program, The Breakfast Club. Since taking my daily helping of ALL-BRAN, I am regular as clockwork. Thanks for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me!" Mrs. Myrtle Wood, 274 Baumanville St., Akron, Ohio.

Yes, it does seem like magic, the way KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN helps so many people. "Gets at" one common cause of constipation—lack of enough dietary "cellulosic" elements! That's because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy, natural elimination! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

105mm Howitzer

Associated Press Features

The 105 mm howitzer, one of the most effective light artillery pieces in use today, is used by both infantry and light artillery regiments.

The infantry uses it as a close support assault weapons for direct fire against tanks, emplacements and personnel. The infantry's M3 model weighs about 2,500 pounds, fires four 33-pound high explosive shells per minute. Its effective range is 7,250 yards. Infantry cannon companies use both self-propelled and towed guns of this type. It is the most powerful gun in the infantry arsenal.

The M2 model used by the field artillery as infantry support weighs about 4,300 pounds and has a 12,000-yard range. It is transported by a two-and-a-half ton truck.

DRIVE TO EXTEND CROP INSURANCE ON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19—A drive to revive and extend the dying federal crop insurance program gained strong bi-partisan support today, prompting sponsors to predict favorable congressional action this session.

Two key figures announced they would back legislation by house agriculture committee Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) which would provide for insurance in 1945 on wheat, cotton and flax and allow experimental projects on many other crops.

They were house appropriations committee Chairman Cannon (D-Mo), who successfully led the fight last year to deny funds for the 1944 program, and Rep. Hope (R-Kans), ranking Republican member of the agriculture committee.

"The new bill specified the premiums must pay for all the losses, which 'is practical and business-like,' Cannon told a reporter. "That wasn't possible under the old program."

Hope said "the new legislation attempts to correct the matters to which many objected last year. I will support it."

Rep. Cooley (D-NC) asserted "with both of these leaders backing us, it looks like we can get the program approved this session.

Strong opposition still loomed, however. Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) predicted "a heavy battle on the house floor."

Galion and Bucyrus Scouts at Camporee

Approximately 80 boys representing five Boy Scout Troops from the Crawford district held a camporee Saturday and Sunday at Camp Mumaw in Crawford county. Troop 32, sponsored by Bucyrus Lions club, won the camporee with 341 points. Bo Koon is Scout master. Troop 31 of Tiro, Rev. R. H. Miller, Scout master, was second with 330 points. Third was Troop 13 of Carey with 320 points. P. M. Edwards is Scout master of the Carey troop. Joseph L. Sanlosser, Harding Area Cold executive, was in charge of the camporee. Other troops participating were Troop 41 and Troop 19, both of Galion.

Boys took part in all campaign activities including the construction of a lean-to for sleeping quarters. Purpose of the camporees is to accustom Scouts to camping conditions where they must provide all necessities themselves. Points are acquired by troops from participation in various camping activities, the appearance of camp sites, discipline, campcraft, provision of food, etc.

...or The Star: Some time ...was an article in The ... the liquor dealers, giv... ...to our honorable dead ...ering a prayer asking us ...that peace and freedom ...come to our nation ...ther on they had a come... ...late because she is to attend it. They said they had a right to carry on business the same as a man after he is dead is dead.

I also said that we never go out on the street with shot guns and compell anybody to come in to our place of business. Neither does the old spider go out to get his victims but he makes his web and just waits for his victims and he always gets them These dealers said that they give more to the cause of the Red Cross and for the war but I have often wondered why you charity builders won't build a hospital for your poor weak deluged, sick in body and soul at a mad, instead of cussing your poor victims on others or throwing them out on the street Booze is taking a heavy toll on life more than this war So just think it over, don't stand in the way of America getting back to God

SOLDIER ASSAILS LIQUOR

Editor of The Star I am home on a furlough and I read the page in May 29 issue of The Star where the Liquor dealers "honored" (?) our fallen heroes I also read the letters of criticism of the readers concerning this blasphemy and they are just criticism But I find some people who are deceived by the professed patriotism of these "booze barons"

I have been in the Army for three years and four months serving in every corner of the U. S. and in Alaska I have seen the war effort hindered hundreds of times by liquor and have seen every work of evil that liquor can do. It was liquor that caused the defeat at Pearl Harbor. Liquor tears down, but never builds up! These liquor dealers profess to help the war effort with one hand and with the other they are giving our boys that which will cast their souls into Hell.

Our boys need letters, Bibles and your prayers, but they do not need your liquor.

May I quote from the Highest authority—The Word of God "Be not deceived, God is not mocked. for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap" (Gal 6 7). "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6 23).

Yours in His service, a soldier for Christ and country,

MARKET STRONGER AFTER WEAK PERIOD

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 19—Bullish tendencies returned to the grain market last week after a decline of more than a month during which wheat futures dropped as much as 14 cents and rye sank to new lows for the year.

The recovery, attributed to legislative and crop news, was in spite of a government forecast that this year's wheat yield would set a new record of well over a billion bushels

Sharpest price increases resulted from action of the house in approving a measure, regarded by the trade as inflationary, intended to guarantee parity prices for farm commodities

Reports of stem rust in the southwestern wheat also disclosed extensive short interests in the market and caused a rally.

Grain companies, asserting it was too early to predict how severe the rust damage would be, were inclined to minimize the danger and thought it possible the crop would mature ahead of the rust.

Stem rust usually is present when there is a luxuriant growth of wheat, considerable moisture, higher than seasonal temperatures and excessive humidity. All these conditions exist this year.

Progress of spring wheat throughout the northwest has been reported good to excellent but private estimates were considerably under the 320 million bushel yield forcast by the government. An almost unprecedented improvement was reported in moisture conditions in the Canadian prairie provinces

Beyond Post-War

EXAMINATION of the text of President Roosevelt's statement of purpose on international cooperation [illegible] after the war [illegible] national declaration [illegible] are seeking [illegible] agreement and [illegible] with the nations would maintain, according to their capacities, adequate forces to meet the need of preventing war and of making undeniable deliberate preparation for war, and to have such forces available for joint action when necessary. All this, of course, will become possible once our present enemies are defeated and effective arrangements are made to prevent them from making war again."

This language makes it apparent that the immediate problem of dealing with Germany, Japan and their satellites is not to be handled under any broad plan of international cooperation, but presumably by the major powers which will have brought about their defeat. Thereafter, according to the prospectus favored by the Roosevelt administration and which probably will find no important dissent in the opposition party, steps will be taken to create a more widely international organization "to maintain peace and security and to assist the creation through international cooperation, of conditions of stability and well-being necessary for peaceful and friendly relations among nations."

Since it is evident that the success of the organization envisioned beyond the post-war settlement must depend heavily on the settlement, it now becomes a matter of immediate interest as to the kind of settlement Mr. Roosevelt has in mind.

Inner Defense

ADMIRAL NIMITZ is authority for expectation of a new turn in the amphibious campaign to reach Japan's inner defense. He has pointed out that Saipan, key to the Marianas, is strongly defended.

The steady approach to the heart of the Japanese empire by naval and air power combined with land power to seize and hold bases is now reaching a stage of momentous decision for its military leaders. No one can guess how they will react, but it may be assumed no one in authority is ignoring the probability they will react violently. It is still possible the climactic battle involving United States forces may occur in the Pacific before it occurs in Europe, and if that happens it undoubtedly will be a showdown with important elements of the Japanese navy.

Victory Is Not Cheap

PROMPT announcement of the casualty total for the first 11 days of the invasion sets at rest some of the fears in American hearts—not that 3,283 dead and more than 12,000 wounded provide any comfort, but only that the cost might have been so much greater.

Victory is not cheap. Every American who is killed or hurt in our progress toward it is a dear price to pay for the failure of nations so to ordain their affairs that wars occur to rob them of their best men and their treasures. The cost of this war, like the cost of its predecessor, will make a potent argument for a better plan of international security when the fighting is over.

Because war grows constantly in scope and destruction, the motive for outlawing war likewise grows constantly stronger. Certainly it was stronger at the outbreak of this one than it was in 1914, and assuredly it will be even stronger at the end of this one than it was in 1918. The world could not afford another war then, and it will be less able to afford another when this one is over.

There is no consolation for those who bear the heavy burden of sorrow, other than that they find within themselves. Their loved ones offered themselves to danger because they believed it was their duty. They knew the risk they faced, and they died gallantly. They were sustained by belief that their sacrifice would not be wasted. If that trust is kept sacred, they will not have died in vain.

War of Production

THE same American methods which made it possible for the United States to overcome Germany's staggering lead in aviation and then to forge ahead until American planes ruled the sky over Europe are the secret of the B-29, global weapon of aerial warfare.

They are the product of skill, resources and money. No other nation has the combination needed to produce them in quantity and to put them into effectual operation. They represent the efforts of every part of America's war machine—from technical skill to the financial operations which make it possible to focus skill on an intricate and costly project.

There have been a thousand good reasons for buying War Bonds, and now there are a thousand and one. There never can be enough B-29's to do what is expected of them unless more and more Americans are willing to invest in the victory they will help to win.

If there existed among the majority of citizens the firm intention of establishing international security, the technique of giving shape to such an instrument would not present an all-too-difficult problem.—Prof. Albert Einstein.

News Behind the News

Writer Pleas for Sincere, Straightforward Platform for Republicans.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 20—Dear [illegible] (Member of Republican convention platform committee):

You asked me what I would do if I were a member of the Republican platform committee. Frankly, I think the time for old-fashioned generalities in platform writing is over.

Generally, a platform is forgotten as soon as written. This is because it usually is a composite accumulation of appeals to as many groups as possible, and, therefore, lacks any forceful character.

I would write a simple, straightforward doctrine without equivocation. My suggestions would run something like this:

International policy—I would promise a sincere effort to cooperate to the utmost with foreign nations in maintaining Christian principles of justice for all peoples. I would not pretend I had a sure-fire way to accomplish this.

I would advocate a formula based on democratic principles and seek unity which would take the foreign affairs issue out of politics as much as possible.

The formula which is being evolved both by the administration and Republican leaders, of a top council of nations with a secondary assembly and a world court, is a democratic formula. But to bring peace to the world, it must be operated in a democratic way of give and take, with divided authority just as the President, congress and supreme court in this country function, with individual authority and coherence.

On the issues of air traffic, money, trade, etc., I do not believe anyone can lay down a formula, only a set of basic principles. Obviously, these agreements must be reached by negotiation which also will involve give and take.

I would warn and guard against any ultra idealistic theories and doctrines such as world states, world wage-hour theories, a quart of milk a day, etc, and follow a course of realism toward our allies Britain, Russia and China.

National Policy: I would promise abandonment of politics in economics in favor of truly instrumental economics. Specific measures to accomplish this could be offered.

The present system of taxation should be abandoned entirely in favor of incentive taxation, based on national income, with taxes being lowered automatically in times of depression as national income goes down, and increased automatically in times of plenty as national income goes up.

I would promise abandonment of political spending and propose an entire government system similarly tied to national income so it would function automatically—public works programs, government lending, federal reserve rediscount rates, all banking policies, etc.

Labor Policy—On this subject particularly, I would lay down a policy of common justice for all the people (eliminating both the preferments now enjoyed by unions, which place them in a special class beyond the law) but at the same time safeguarding their just rights.

There is no reason in common justice why labor unions should be beyond public inspection of their finances, no reason why they alone should be permitted to conduct rackets.

The great bulk of labor in this country is still outside the unions and to this middle class of white-collar men, I would promise the first real representation they ever had in government. Unorganized, they have suffered most from the war which has raised the income of the lowest class, but imposed unequal burdens of taxation without increased incomes on the middle class.

These are the main topics of issue today. For the others, such as farm price protection, housing, etc., I would work out my formulas from this, same over-all principle, justice to all rather than paternalism to a few, abandonment of government by group pressures and an appeal to common sense and not merely to votes.

Today and Tomorrow

Real Issues of Campaign Defined; G. O. P. Nominee To Need Control Over Own Party.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

MR. WILLKIE has just been told by Mr. Mark Sullivan that an affirmative policy for the Republican party is not "what nature meant" and would be a "disservice to the country." After reminding Mr. Willkie that he has been a Republican only since 1939, Mr Sullivan says that "the real guide for the Republicans in their platform making next week" is in the rule that "the function of an opposition party is to be an opposition party."

Cynical as this sounds, it is possible to take an even more cynical view of the Republican platform. It is that at its best the platform will be vague enough to permit Gov. Dewey to prove his fitness to cope with the real problems that lie ahead. Anything better than this would be a startling novelty in the platform of a party which has so long been out of power, and is still in the hands of men who have not had the experience of responsibility.

The platform, we must remember, is written before the candidate is nominated, and therefore he takes charge of the party organization. For this reason the platform almost invariably reflects the views of those who held the party together when it was a mere opposition party, and that means, as Mr. Sullivan so candidly sets forth, "nothing affirmative." But this is precisely why the country has learned to look to the candidate, not to the platform, for the policy of the party.

The 1940 Campaign

In 1940 the drama of Wendell Willkie's campaign was whether he could transcend the record of his party organization, and by his leadership do what Theodore Roosevelt did in 1904, what Woodrow Wilson did in 1912, and what Franklin Roosevelt has done in 1932, impose discipline and instill purpose into the old party machine. The popular exhilaration which attended Mr. Willkie's nomination was the anticipation that this man who had had such a triumph at Philadelphia would put new life into the old party. When in August it became clear that the party machine was stronger than Mr. Willkie's leadership, the Republican campaign collapsed like a pricked balloon.

Gov. Dewey faces the same test but under more favorable conditions than Mr. Willkie. He will be nominated by the combined action of party workers from all sections of the country, and not, like Mr. Willkie, in spite of them. He has not had to defeat his own party in order to become its leader, and therefore he may hope to escape Mr. Willkie's dilemma which was that he could not appeal to the country without alienating his party henchmen.

Mr. Willkie got the nomination without getting the control of the party, Gov. Dewey has a good prospect of getting both. He will need them both. For no man can be an effective candidate if he cannot convince the voters that his party will enable him to make good his campaign promises. Nor can he be a successful president unless his party is controlled by men who are his faithful supporters.

Real Issue

The real issue in this campaign will be whether the risks of changing the administration are greater or are less than the risks of not changing it. Either way the same problems will have to be dealt with. The war prosecuted to its finish, settlement imposed on our enemies, means agreed upon for consultation and collaboration, the armies demobilized, industry reconverted, trade reestablished, the consequences of the war liquidated.

The question will be whether Mr Roosevelt and his aged cabinet with their diminishing energies and their increasingly set ways, still have what it will take

National Debt Will Be Campaign Issue

300 Billion Dollar Level in Sight by End of War.

DURING the national campaign this year, Republicans warn, they intend to inform the public on the dangers of a constantly rising national debt.

The practice of deficit financing became established during the depression. A new philosophy of public debt was born with the application in this country of the spending theories of John Maynard Keynes, English economist.

Government war borrowing added to deficit financing, is expected to raise the public debt to a total of 300 billion dollars by the end of World War II. The figure is too enormous to comprehend as a total—but it means that every man, woman and child in the country has a per capita obligation of approximately $2,300.

Obviously, no one can be concerned any more with the possibility of retiring completely so huge a sum of money. The question now is the nation's ability to meet the charges incurred in carrying it as a liability. There is no precedent for so large a debt—no economic experience to follow.

One of the Roosevelt administrations's first efforts was to effect certain economies in operation of the government, in accordance with Democratic campaign pledges. Despite this, there was no important net reduction in federal expenditures. Mr. Roosevelt thereupon ceased to show further interest in economy.

His first budget called for heavy outlays of money. The President said the public debt would reach approximately 32 billion dollars by June 30, 1935, but said the plan was to reach a "definitely balanced budget for the third year of recovery."

In the late spring of 1934, Mr. Roosevelt conferred with John Maynard Keynes, who apparently persuaded him to accept the theory that "pump priming" through deficit financing would operate as a principal means of promoting economic recovery by increasing consumer purchasing power. Throughout the rest of the depression period, the stress of New Deal fiscal policy was laid upon support of consumer purchasing power.

IN his budget message of Jan. 3, 1935, the President said the point had not yet been reached at which a balanced budget could be obtained. He pointed out that everything was in balance, however, except expenditures to give work to the unemployed.

Controversy about deficit financing was sharpened in 1937, when business activity and employment slumped. Critics pointed to the recession as evidence that pump priming was a temporary stimulus and that business confidence could be restored only by orthodox financial practices.

A number of studies of government policy made at that time concluded that federal credit depended less upon the size of the debt than its trend. One study said:

"In the last analysis, the belief of investors in the security of government credit is more important in maintaining it than the statistical measurements on which that belief may be founded. The temper of a people is influenced by many considerations besides statistical data surrounding the debt itself."

The controversy never was resolved. Proponents of a "good housekeeping" economy—with a balanced budget, federal economy, encouragement of investment and reduction of taxes—apparently were snowed under when the war boom hit the country, seeming to prove the soundness of the pump priming doctrine.

But they stuck by their guns and are still sticking by them. All they need to do is to point to the steady increase of national debt as the unsolved problem that goes with the high wages and high national income of the war years.

THEY point out that the national debt has climbed from a low of only 3.6 per cent of the national income in 1915 to a temporary high of 92.5 in 1943. This means that if the national income slumps after the war, the proportionate burden of the debt would be much heavier. It is the reason for the government's pre-occupation with all possible means of maintaining a high level of employment. Americans now are working for their national debt.

The traditional view of national debt held that no distinction could be drawn between private and public debt, unless it was that the latter demanded a greater degree of integrity in its administration.

Public expenditure for development of the nation's resources, it was held, should be made only when they were self-liquidating and did not compete with private business. Increased federal debt, it was argued, discouraged private investment.

The belief that an internal debt constitutes a mere distribution of liabilities and is therefore, harmless has been strongly attacked by orthodox students of fiscal policy, aside from the political issue it has created — and will continue to create.

It is clear, these students say in their summing-up, that the larger the debt the smaller the adverse circumstances need to be to bring financial disaster.

The Keynes school's rebuttal is that federal credit always will be good if the nation maintains substantially full employment. Inflation, they contend, results from a lack of commodities and deflation from a lack of purchasing power. They propose a positive policy of government spending in deflationary periods and of heavy taxation in inflationary periods in order to maintain a balance between commodities and purchasing power.

This policy, they argue, would not necessarily result in perpetual deficit spending. If suitably heavy taxes are levied upon incomes in periods of prosperity, they believe the debt can be maintained in flexible balance.

One of the most acute observation on their plan is made by Harold G. Moulton, president of the Brookings Institution, who believes a transfer of tax and appropriation power from congress to the executive would be a necessary accompaniment, because otherwise the inflationary pressures generated could not be held under control.

THE United States started with a debt of $71,060,000 after the debts of the states were assumed in 1790. The debt had been reduced to $45,000,000 in 1812 and was completely liquidated by 1836; a modest surplus was built up in its place.

On the eve of the Civil war, following the panic of 1857, the debt had reappeared and stood at $90,582,000. During the war it crossed the billion mark for the first time and had reached two and three-quarter billion in 1866. However, heavy receipts made its reduction possible and by 1892 it had been whittled down to less than a billion. When World war I began, the debt was well under control; it stood at only one and a quarter billion as late as 1916.

By the end of the war, it had soared to $25,484,506,160. In 1920, interest charges alone were more than a billion. The period of prosperity following the war enabled the government to reduce the debt to about 64 per cent of its wartime peak by June 30 1931. There has been no reduction of the debt since June 30, 1930. It is expected to reach 214 billion by June 30.

Imaginary Dialogues

ROBERT E. Hannegan, Democratic National Chairman, spent an hour with the President in conference — News items.

Mr. Roosevelt—Well, of all people, Mr. Hannegan! What could possibly bring you to see me?

Mr. Hannegan—Oh I was just passing by and thought I'd drop in.

Mr. Roosevelt—Anything on your mind?

Mr. Hannegan—Nothing special. You know it is with the chairman of the national committee in an election year.

Mr. Roosevelt—Yes, pretty dull I suppose. These election years get to be a frightful bore, believe me!

Mr. Hannegan—How's your campaign coming?

Mr. Roosevelt—Whose?

Mr. Hannegan—Yours.

Mr. Roosevelt—You must be mistaken. I don't refer to me running except humorously. We just laugh and joke about the subject.

Mr. Hannegan—Oh, I forgot. You're not saying you will or will not run for the reason you have in the works. But can't you and I put our cards on the table?

Mr. Roosevelt—It would establish a bad precedent. And anyhow I get a kick out of being I am not certain whether I am running or not. If you come right out and tell me I might misstate very well what my intentions are. That would hurt.

Mr. Hannegan—Very well. I will refer to you in this conversation from now on as "the candidate" instead of calling you by name. Now then, how does the situation strike you?

Mr. Roosevelt—From what I hear from the candidate all looks well. How does it look to you?

Mr. Hannegan—Pretty good considering the confusion.

Mr. Roosevelt—What confusion?

Mr. Hannegan—The confusion whether the candidate will be the candidate or not be a candidate. The candidate should make up his mind soon, don't you think.

Mr. Roosevelt—He may have to before long. What seems to be the impression around the country about the Democratic standard bearer?

Mr. Hannegan—The folks seem to be in doubt as the nomination rests between Roosevelt and Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt—Suppose there's a deadlock?

Mr. Hannegan—They may have to draft Roosevelt.

* * *

Mr. Roosevelt—Complicated isn't it? Well, what can we do?

Mr. Hannegan—You might take it up with the candidate.

Mr. Roosevelt—Well, I guess maybe I can be candid with you, Bob. I will be the candidate again.

Mr. Hannegan—Gosh, that takes a lot off my mind.

Mr. Roosevelt—Do you find any resentment against 16 years in office.

Mr. Hannegan—Bosh! Look at King Edward. He didn't get out until he had been 35 years.

Mr. Roosevelt—Yes, but there's been some talk in America lately about a democracy.

THERE are some indications in the news from Normandy that the attitude of some of the people is, "We are about to be liberated, by gosh how we hate it!"

We understand that Mussolini while away the long summer days sitting in front of a picture of Der Fuehrer and singing, "You made me what I am today: I hope you're satisfied."

Post-War List

By Truman Twill

Everything depends, they tell us, on everybody busy after the war—and it probably right. Personally, it looks to us the crying needs of all the Twillenes from to coast could keep everybody busy the turn of the next century.

Our own Twillery needs—and this is unofficial list—Everything. The furnace ing apart at the joints, and the roof apart at the seams. The hot water system its last legs, the screens are dog-eared, spouting is falling down and the garage are tattered and torn.

The back porch sags and the front is devastated area. The refrigerator is on borrowed time, the washing machine is seum piece, the vacuum sweeper's coming in short pants, and the living ceiling is hanging on by its chandelier.

The chimney is swaying in the wind, retaining wall is falling down, the has slipped its moorings, the basement given its best, the place needs a coat paint has seen better days, the water past their prime, and the kitchen needs lifted.

The stove is medieval, the bedsprings list to port, the davenport is shorter pieces of orange crating held in by clothesline, the rugs are victims of en chairs are lumpy, the mirrors have the curtains have vitamin deficiency, shrubbery is frazzled and faded.

The stairway goes up in the wrong the interior decoration is a challenge are on the fritz, the doorbell is unheard there are walls to be knocked out, walls to be constructed in new places, linoleum is a snare for unwary feet.

The bathtub does not make a pleasure, the medicine cabinet is too dining room is too big, the French straight from Vichy, the air is not on the sidewalks are out of line, the attic for improvement, and a bulldozer could ders with the yard.

This is not to mention the inmates unfulfilled needs, which are endless a sufficient to keep an equal number hard at work for a decade, not improvements, new products and the rest which would fall due from time to is only one catch to all this.

The same needs that are going to body working day and night after the there before the war, too, when there little difficulty in Twilleries from coast about finding the wherewithal. trouble never clearly explained, but evidently caused a lot of complications along the line.

CARE ABOUT PROFITS?

Well, brother, you'd better care about profits. Believe it or not, the peace and prosperity you like to shout about depend on those very profits.

You see a "profit" is the difference between the cost of what comes in and the price of what goes out . . . whether it's a plant, a store, or a public utility. Wages are part of profits, and there are only two ways of increasing them: reducing the cost of what comes in, and stepping up the efficiency of processing and selling so that what you do with the product between the time it comes in and the time it goes out reduces the cost per unit. If you carry that far enough you can pay higher wages, improve your processing, and reduce the price of your product. Then you're passing some of the profit on to buyers.

Another kind of profit is really rent for the use of money. Would you lend your hard-earned cash if nothing were paid you for the use of it?

After wages, material costs, maintenance, taxes and money-rent have been paid, there should still be something left. A sound business must lay aside each year a fund for improving its products and methods . . . and here lies the progress in profit. Even in peacetime, few businesses make all expenses every year. If money isn't laid aside in good years to pay expenses in bad ones, the company will have trouble, and there'll be that many fewer jobs. Right now there's need for large funds of this kind for conversion to peace products.

Remember how long it took, how much money it took, to convert for war? Remember all those machines that were tossed out to make room for manufacturing war products? If industry is to get back to peace products fast, there must be a lot of money for the purpose.

There are ten million people working now who never had good jobs before. Most of them want to keep on working. There will be ten million soldiers and sailors who'll want jobs . . . and have earned them. If jobs are to be given them . . . and jobs must be given them for nobody wants breadlines ever again . . . American business must prepare for peace by having a reserve to preserve freedom . . . "seed money" to plow back into wages, materials and machines that will be needed to convert to peace conditions.

The only alternate is dictatorship, government operation, living our lives forever under minute regulation of every move we make. And that's what ten million American boys are fighting to prevent.

MISS ELEANOR WALTERS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Walters of 202 Superior street, and John Pasters, son of Dr. W. S. Pasters of 237 Superior street, were united in marriage last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Members of the immediate families and a few friends were present for the double ring ceremony, read by Rev. Garrison Reddick of the First United Brethren church before the fireplace decorated with honeysuckle vines and white roses and lighted by white tapers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street dress of ivory white drawn-work linen. Her head dress was a Juliet cap trimmed with daisies and veiling, and she wore a shoulder corsage of talisman roses. The bride also carried a handkerchief made by her mother and carried by her at her own wedding.

Miss Mildred Purviance of Dayton was the bride's maid of honor. She wore a blue floral dress with matching Juliet cap, and a pink corsage. Robert Phillips served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Walters chose an olive green dress with which she wore a white corsage.

Preceding the ceremony, a short program of piano music was played by Mrs. George W. Wilson. Miss Purviance sang "Beloved It Is Morn" and "Oh Perfect Love" accompanied by Mrs. Wilson. A cablegram was read immediately following the ceremony from the bride's brother, Glenn E. Walters, who is stationed in the Army in Australia. At the reception given after the wedding Mrs. H. H. Harris of Newark, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Phillips, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the table.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a blue dress with a gold coat and gold accessories. The new Mrs. Pasters is a hospital laboratory technician employed at the Point Pleasant, W. Va., Ordnance plant. Mr. Pasters is in the local office of the Ohio State Highway department. They will make their home at 237 Superior street.

One of the pre-nuptial parties given for the former Miss Walters was a miscellaneous shower Saturday night, given by Mrs. Harold Rumble and Mrs. George Wilson at the home of the former on Superior street. The evening was spent with the guests participating in contests, in which Miss Esther Williamson won a prize.

The guest of honor was directed to her gifts by verses read by the guests.

A buffet lunch was served from a table centered with a miniature bride. White hydrangea and tapers decorated the dining room. Mrs. Harris assisted at the table.

Out of town guests at both the shower and the wedding included Miss Esther Smith, Mrs. Fanny Atwood and Mrs. Harris of Newark, Miss Mildred Purviance of Dayton, Mrs. Peter Butchko of Bucyrus and Mrs. Robert Thibaut of North Carolina.

Mrs. Bert Gilmore of East Church street entertained the Au Fait club Thursday evening. High awards in euchre were won by Mrs. Harry Gruber, Mrs. Nelson Irvin and Mrs. DeForest Felter. The lone hand award was won by Mrs. Walter Merrow and the guest prize went to Mrs. James Farris.

War savings stamps were given as awards when the F. C. club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lucille Edington of Millburn avenue. Mrs. Edington was presented a gift from the club in honor of her wedding anniversary. Awards were won by Mrs. Helen McAllister, Mrs. Mona George, Mrs. Lillian Hartley and Mrs. Nevada Roberts. The mystery package was won by Mrs. Myrtle Brothers.

Mrs. Darrel Roseberry was hostess to the Victo club at the Manor house Thursday night. Awards in games and contests went to Mrs. Hugh Heclo, Mrs. Orville Burkhardt and Mrs. James Beaschler. Plans were made for a picnic and swimming party June 23 at Crystal Lake park. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Osborn at 658 Davids street.

Miss Betty Ganoe and Miss Helen Colle were entertained at the Harding Hotel last Tuesday evening, when a group of women in the office of the 838th AAF Specialized Depot detachment held a farewell party in thier honor. Gifts were presented to the honor guests who left the following night for the WAVES. Those present were Miss Sophia Chrest of Uhrichsville, Miss Beryl Johnson, Miss Mary Ann Chrest, Miss Imogene Hudkins, Mrs. John Ellison, Mrs. Ray Forbis, Mrs. Forrest K. Sharrock, Miss Miriam Lusch and Miss Margaret McAfee.

Guest day was observed by the Girls' Guild of First Evangelical and Reformed church last Tuesday at the home of Joan Warner at 279 Thew avenue. Guests present were Gertrude Dietsch, Jean Alice Kneisley, Eleanor Castanien, Patricia Burroughs and Miss Bertha Wierth of Oak Harbor. Marian Uncapher led devotions, Janice Eberl gave a report and entertainment was in charge of Barbara McIntire and the hostess, whose mother, Mrs. William Warner, served.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Carr, married recently, were complimented with a miscellaneous shower Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carr of 415 Thompson street. The evening was spent socially with 40 relatives and friends of the bride and groom as guests.

Radio and Radar To Be New Aids in Train Operation

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 20—Railroad radio is expediting the daily movement of more than 3,000 freight cars in the suburban yards of the Rock Island lines at Burr Oak.

The first permanent, two-way, dispatcher-to-train radio communication system, limited to the Burr Oak yards and vicinity, gives promise of being extended through the lines' entire system.

Immediate effect is speeding up of freight car movement. The dispatcher can call the engineer anywhere within a radius of 30 miles and give him orders directly instead of having to telephone or telegraph the station nearest the train and have the message relayed to the engineer by foot courier. Likewise, the engineer can call the dispatcher.

Installations have been made in two diesel locomotives and in a short time the total will be increased to ten, said Ernest A. Dahl, 25-year-old electronics engineer of the railroad, who installed the equipment.

The railroad next plans to install caboose-to-engine radio communication and eventually to use it as a safety measure in passenger train operation, Dahl said.

"Most of this, of necessity, will have to wait until after the war," he added. "We also are planning on making use of radar as a safety device.

Later that evening, the couple left for a short wedding trip. They are making their home at Miss Whitt's home on Davids street.

MARION PRISONER OF NAZIS PROMOTED

Lt. Robert Wills Advanced 3 Days After Reported Missing.

Mrs. June Wills of 669 Concord avenue received a letter Monday morning written by James Kincannen, chaplain at the United States Army air base in England, where her husband, Lt. Robert Wills was stationed. Lt. Wills was reported missing in action following a raid over Germany on March 23. Word was received here on April 11. A little less than a month later, he was reported to be a German prisoner.

In the letter received Monday, Mrs. Wills was told that her husband had been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant on March 26, three days after being reported missing. She also was advised that he had received an air medal.

Lt. Wills is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wills of 922 Merkle avenue. His wife is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Imbody with whom she is making her home.

Lt. Wills enlisted in 1942 and has been overseas since a year ago in January. He visited Marion over the Christmas holidays before going overseas.

BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY IN THEFT CASE

Youth Near Prospect Accused of Stealing Auto.

[illegible] LeRoy White, 19, of near [illegible] been bound over to the grand jury after a hearing yesterday before Municipal Judge [illegible] Citizen on charge of auto theft. According to state highway patrolmen who arrested him Saturday night, White stole a Pontiac coach from the rear of the Harden Dairy Co. on Olney avenue at 10:30 Saturday morning. The auto belongs to James Carbaugh, operator of the Lamar grill on West Center street. When Carbaugh reported the car stolen about an hour later, a police radio broadcast was made in an effort to locate it.

According to the patrol's report of White's activities, he drove the automobile to Kenton and was on a return trip to Marion when the engine became overheated and the vehicle caught fire.

When the car was reported wrecked and burning near Meeker on Route 30S state highway patrolmen went to the scene and there arrested White, who was leaving when patrolmen appeared about 8 p. m. Saturday.

White was taken to city prison and bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

Hopes for Quick Nazi Fall Worth Closer Inspection

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Substituting for Dewitt MacKenzie)

Yesterday, mindful that optimism over the war is non-professional these days, it was suggested rather cautiously here that Germany may not be so tough as advertised.

Then came Mr. Churchill's talk of early victory, turning the cautious into pikers.

Now, having long felt that Americans are great bandwagon-hoppers, with a great deal more enthusiasm for a winner than for blood, sweat and tears, perhaps a deeper excursion into reasons for optimism is permissable.

Burden Grows Heavier

Many observers have been incredulous at the seeming German ability to keep up the pace indefinitely. In 1939 it was quite generally assumed that she could not possibly support a long war. That she has been doing the seemingly impossible is all the more reason that she cannot continue, that the western front adds the final unbearable ounce to her load.

Pilots report widespread German use of horse-drawn transport in France. That means bombing and raw material shortages have seriously cut motor output, or that Germany is terribly short of gasoline, or both. If this were 1940 you could hardly find a horse among any reserves Hitler was expecting to move on sudden notice.

The number of foreigners impressed into his Atlantic wall legions may and probably does mean reserves of Germans for a last ditch fight nearer home, but it also means the enemy is grabbing up twiggs and gravel to continue a fight he started with a finely tempered sword. The Germans claim 8,000,000 men. Half of them must be in supply service or are occupying troops. More than two million, probably three, are seeking some means of stopping the Russians. Der Fuehrer is out-manned.

Air Strength Exaggerated

Before the war Germany had everybody buffaloed about her air force. Reports said she had 10, 12, 15, even 20,000 fighting planes. It is doubtful now how she ever could have put up more than 5,000. Despite talk of "reserves" for final defense of the homeland, there is good reason to believe the luftwaffe, on a percentage basis, is about where the RAF was in September, 1940. And the allied fliers aren't going to quit.

Such auguries could be cited all day. Perhaps the Germans can make it tough, very tough, sporadically. But Mr. Churchill probably knows a lot of other reasons why he can say "the months of this summer * * * may bring full success to the cause of freedom."

ITALY

Italy than any other town north of Rome.

The villages of Ripa and Civitella D'Arno northeast of Perugia were captured by troops of an Indian division and considerable casualties were inflicted on the Germans when they attempted a counterattack.

Farther west British troops reached the southern shore of Lake Trasimeno and approached the road along its western shore.

Citta Della Pieve, where the Germans had offered strong resistance for two days, was bypassed by Eighth army troops who headed for San Litardo to the northwest. Between Citta Della Pieve and Perugia, the town of Panicale and the villages of Mungano, Catiglione and Panciano have been cleared of the enemy. Citta Della Pieve has a population of 9,400 and Panicale 5,800.

The number of prisoners taken by both armies since the start of the offensive below Rome rose to 27,000.

Board Orders Ouster of University President

By The Associated Press

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 20—Taking action after almost 12 hours of deliberation, the West Virginia university board of governors removed Dr. Charles E. Lawall from the university presidency early today but the student body served almost immediate notice it would continue to fight to retain him.

The board, concurring with the expressed wishes of Gov. M. M. Neely that reforms were needed in the administration staff, offered Dr. Lawall the alternative of becoming director of the school of mines or taking a professorship in the college of engineering. His decision must be made by Aug. 31.

In a statement, signed by leaders of the protest committee, the students said "we are tired of having a political machine run our program of higher education."

WALLACE ARRIVES IN CHINESE CAPITAL

By The Associated Press

CHUNGKING, June 20—Vice President Wallace, visiting China as the personal representative of President Roosevelt, arrived in the war capital today and immediately began closer relations between China and Siberia.

The vice president, in a statement distributed at the airport after his arrival from Russian territory, quoted Dr. Hu Shih, former Chinese ambassador to the United States as having said that the boundary between Siberia and China "should be like the one between the United States and Canada—not one of separation but one of joining friends together."

Wallace said he wanted to see the land, talk with farmers, visit Chinese and American soldiers and above all discuss with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek "matters of mutual interest and concern."

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek welcomed Wallace at the airdrome, a high compliment not required by protocol, since the generalissimo is the head of the state.

Mrs. Chiang also was at the airdrome, but remained in a customed motor car. Wallace, Generalissimo Chiang and U. S. Ambassador Clarence E. Gauss boarded the car after the vice president had shaken hands with the assembled notables, and drove to the presidential villa for tea.

After tea Wallace planned to go to the United States embassy for the night.

Wallace flew to Chungking from Tuiwa, Sinkiang. His first stopping place in China was at an intermediate landing field somewhere in Szechwan province, where he waited for several hours for visibility in the Chungking area to improve.

INVASION

shooting to the Cherbourg peninsula at extreme range, but headquarters said there is no reason to believe "they can seriously interfere with the American advance."

Big Attack Launched

This morning's communique gave a tip-off that a big American offensive had begun by reporting "coordinated attacks all along the north front."

The supreme command said "coordinated attacks" meant Bradley had thrown other division into the drive on the port under a curtain of fire from 105-millimeter Howitzers and 155-millimeter "Long Toms."

"The enemy has some advantages in terrain but it can be assumed he is more tried than we are," a headquarters spokesman declared.

The Ninth division, advancing from Briequebec, encountered only spasmodic resistance.

German troops all along the north front were reported apparently badly disorganized. Front dispatches declared many of the high Nazi officers had been killed and in some sectors units had been cut to pieces.

No gains were reported in the Carentan area to the south and it seemed apparent Bradley was content merely with holding actions there while driving all-out for Cherbourg.

Despite the worst weather in days, American fighters and fighter-bombers swung into the fray in considerable numbers, sweeping along the few roads left the Germans around Cherbourg and cutting their military movements to pieces with machine-guns and bombs.

Montebourg, scene of desperate fighting for a week or more as a key to the German defense in the north, was neutralized effectively as the charging Yanks swept around it.

Bradley used similar tactics in Tunisia in capturing Bizerte. Then, he drove straight for the port, leaving numerous German pockets behind him, many of which took several days to clean up.

After the capture of Tilly-Sur-Seulles, British patrols pushed as far as Hottot, a mile and a half to the south, without encountering any serious resistance. The situation remained static around besieged Caen still farther east, where Allied forces are being methodically built up for a strong drive.

The building up of the beachhead forces and supplies was hampered yesterday, however, by a wind of 25 miles an hour which whipped up five-foot waves along the beaches. A 60-mile gale swept the channel.

"The Allies' stranglehold on the Cherbourg peninsula has been strengthened by a series of local advances," said last night's headquarters communique.

More than 1,000 prisoners were taken yesterday. Associated Press War Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the American forces, said last night Germans were surrendering "so fast the units do not know how many they have."

FORD WORKERS STRIKE

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON, O., June 20 — A walkout, described by union spokesmen as "unauthorized," stopped production at the Ford Motor Co. plant here today. David Harmon, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) local, joined with company officials in attributing the strike to the discharge of a woman employe yesterday. About 1,000 employes were affected.

CANCEL NORMANDIE PLANS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 20 — The Navy says plans to refit the former French luxury liner Normandie have been cancelled because of a shortage of manpower and critical materials. The ocean giant, which burned and rolled on her side here in Feb., 1942, was raised at a cost of $3,750,000 last fall.

Miss Jean Eloise Pettit, daughter of Mr and Mrs. C. H. Pettit of 991 South Sandusky street, Bucyrus, has enlisted in the Waves, through the Navy Recruiting Station at 196 South Main street, where she applied on "D" Day, Chief Petty Officer John Dugan, in charge of the station, reported today.

WAR LOAN

sen: the appeal to them—it's up to them and their own consciences to decide how many extra bonds they can buy," Mr. Orcutt said. "We feel that the response has been fairly good, taking into consideration the fact that most of the people we call on are already buying extra bonds through their places of employment."

Keeping in step with the national phase of the campaign, leaders and workers today continued to devote almost full attention to sales to individuals, pushing the Series E, F and G bonds to meet the needs of various individual investors. No business or corporation purchases will be counted into the drive until June 26.

Drive leaders, after analyzing the purchases reported by individuals today, were hopeful that the rate of purchases could be stepped up substantially to put Marion county over the top before the late stages of the campaign. They are counting on payroll savings purchases from many of the factories to step up the buying in the next few days.

To help push the industrial payroll purchases of extra bonds, three additional rallies have been scheduled this week. On Thursday, drive leaders and two wounded veterans who spoke at previous rallies here will visit the plants of the Fairfield Engineering Co., the Alloy Cast Steel Co. and the General Excavator Co.

Does Double Duty

Drive leaders were told today of one Marion drive worker who accepted assignments both in the residential drive and in the block leaders' drive canvassing the business district. He reported today that he had contacted every person on his prospect lists in both the residential and business area, and was complimented for having done a 100 per cent job.

The grand total of individual purchases of E, F and G bonds stood at $285,114.25, including $9,839 in F bonds and $37,600 in G. The total represents nearly eight and one-half per cent of the county's $3,365,000 goal. Other thousands of dollars of industrial and corporation purchases will be added to this figure on June 26 when business purchases are added into the drive totals.

Report Changsha Falls to Japanese in China

By The Associated Press

CHUNGKING, June 20 — Indicating that Changsha had fallen, the Chinese high command said tonight the situations in the capital of Hunan province was obscure following destruction of suburban defense works by more than 50,000 Japanese troops. Radio contact with Changsha was broken.

The Japanese attacked the suburban defenses under a cover of war planes, the high command said.

cans that the governor would come to the convention to accept a proffered nomination.

Sprague insisted Dewey was not consulted about this statement. When a reporter asked if anyone else was authorized to "speak for the candidate," Sprague replied quickly:

"There is no candidate."

Despite the New York governor's personal silence, there were evident plans for him to come to Chicago by train if he is chosen to head the ticket and to accept the nomination in a simple, short speech which few thought he would attempt to build into a major campaign address.

In a statement to newsmen, Roy D. Moore, Bricker campaign manager, declared some of the delegate claims made in behalf of Dewey are "wholly fantastic."

Says Many Not Committed

Asserting Dewey's total is "far below the 529 required to nominate, Moore said 825 delegates are coming to the convention "with open minds to consider carefully the qualification of every man who may be put in nomination."

Moore said a poll of the Texas delegation showed Bricker would get a majority of the 33 votes there. He cited Smith's action in Maryland and said W. O. Click, members of the Arizona delegation, would back Bricker.

As instances of "fantastic claims" Moore said were being made by Dewey supporters the Bricker manager called attention to Kentucky's action in voting to keep its 22 votes in line for Gov. Simeon Willis until they are released.

"Dewey forces, following the patterns of unidentified claims, jumped Kentucky's 22 votes in their column," Moore said.

"Virginia with 19 delegates has been claimed by the Dewey forces despite the fact that the delegation voted down a resolution committing it to the New York governor. Four of the 10 seats now are being contested. Idaho also claimed, likewise voted down a Dewey resolution, still has followers have claimed it.

"Numerous states which haven't even caucused have been claimed in their entirety for Dewey, in some instances where delegates have publicly announced for other aspirants."

Sen. Taft Says Bricker Strength Not Yet Tested

By The Associated Press

A report from backers of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that the New Yorker is the prime favorite in presidential polls ran up today against an argument by Senator Taft, Republican of Ohio, that the true strength of Gov. Bricker of Ohio has not yet been shown.

J. Russell Sprague, Republican national committeeman for New York, in loudly banging into the open the campaign to nominate Dewey for president, said at Chicago yesterday that various polls show Dewey is "demanded" by 60 per cent of the people polled.

Sprague said the next highest man, whom he did not identify, had nine per cent rating.

But in a radio speech backing Bricker, Taft said in Washington last night that "popular polls are naturally unreliable" and that "equally unreliable are newspaper accounts of the attitude of various state delegations."

The senator, arguing that Bricker would make the strongest candidate for the Republicans, said that not over a fourth of the convention delegates actually are committed to any one man.

In yesterday's Maine primaries Andrew A. Pettis, president of the Portland CIO shipyard workers union and a labor-endorsed Republican, was rebuffed by his own party but won the Democratic nomination for representative from Maine's first district. He had sought nomination by both parties but the GOP renominated Rep. Robert Hale.

State Senate President Horace A. Hildreth won the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

A Texas supreme court decision is expected tomorrow on a request by pro-Roosevelt Democrats that the court invalidate the customary method of choosing presidential electors by convention.

This group, which wants its own electors on the July 22 primary ballot, holled the state convention which made its electors only conditionally pledged to the party's nominees.

Wyandot County Man Files Court Appeal

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., June 20—The Third district court of appeals heard the case of Lester Cook in his petition for writ of habeas corpus in which he seeks release from a 30-day sentence in the Wyandot county jail.

Cook contended that he was denied his constitutional rights in a hearing in the mayor's court in Upper Sandusky on May 30, following an alleged fight in a cafe here. Cook also contended that at his hearing before the mayor the magistrate suspended his jail sentence conditioned upon his payment of the fine and costs in the amount of $108.70 and that after he had paid the fine and costs and without justifiable cause the marshal caused him to be put in jail to serve the jail sentence. The court took the case under consideration. Cook has been released on bond.

Two Japanese Deer Poisoned in Cleveland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 20—Two Japanese deer have died from poisoning in Cleveland Zoo at Brookside park, Zoo Director Fletcher A. Reynolds reported today.

"The ironic thing about this foolish act is that these deer are not strictly Japanese animals," Reynolds declared. "They may come from north China or anywhere in eastern Asia. What," he asked, "has a deer to do with the war? These animals were loved by thousands of children."

ROAD TRIP DISASTROUS TO MARION TEAM

BEFORE Marion's Cubs embarked on their two-week road tour June 12, many baseball-informed quarters contended that the locals would return to Linwood park a sadly beaten lot of ball players. Results of Ohio state league games up to and including Sunday seem to substantiate this prediction.

Before last night's scheduled game with the Springfield Giants, Marion had played eight games on its unusually lengthy whirl of the league wheel and won but one. The Lima Red Birds triumphed in four out of five contests with the Cubs and Newark made a spotlessly clean sweep of its three-game conflict with Grover Hartley's hard-to-figure out team.

Monday morning's schedule-making showed that the Cubs were a full 11½ games out of first place and two contests behind the fifth place Zanesville Dodgers. Before they departed on their road trip, the Cubs were only six and a half games out of the king's seat and in fifth spot, comfortably leading Jack Knight's then floundering Zanesville outfit.

Yes, the wise boys were dead certain Marion wasn't going to profit by the road trip but they probably didn't figure on it being that bad. Starting tonight with a contest with Springfield, the locals, have five games remaining in this prolonged away-from-home business. They had better win at least three of these to retain a fighting chance for the league championship.

Next Sunday, the locals will be welcomed back to Lincoln park, where they will play host to the Zanesville Dodgers, in the start of a series which may figure prominently in that battle for fifth place. Although Marion will sport a below-par record going into Sunday's game, it's expected that a near capacity crowd will be present to welcome the team home. There were some 1,200 at the June 11 doubleheader with Springfield, which was the farewell "party" for the locals, who the next day opened their long foreign stand against Lima.

Any Marion fans who may have been cherishing a forlorn hope that the Cubs might be leading the league July 1 and thereby automatically become the host team for the league All-Star game July 12, better abandon them immediately. The Hartleymen are mathematically out of the running for host team honors. However, sterling play in the games intervening between now and July 1 might mean a lot in the selection of some Marion players to the All-Star team's roster.

Injuries to key players have doubtless handicapped the locals greatly during their road trip. With such fellows as Virl Minnis and Lou Funk, along with Shortstop Bill Broukal the team's best hitters, on the ailing list and Joe Bellamy able to perform only occasionally because a pesky leg injury, the Marion team's strength is sadder a special Harness racing rule governing events in which two year old trotters or pacers are entered. In such a race, if the same horse wins the first two heats, no third heat will be staged. Eddie Havens persuaded his horse, Victory Day, into the front at the start of the first heat of this spotlight race. At the half, however, Wayne Smart had weaved his horse in and out and into front position, Winsome Hanover pacing the field by about a length at the halfway mark. Winsome Hanover led in the first portion of the backstretch but toward the end of that part of the track, Victory Day stepped up to top slot and held the lead in the upper turn going into the stretch. However, Victory Day broke in the all-important stretch and Winsome Hanover came on to win by a length over the Burgett-driven Willer Up. The second heat found Victory Day again leading at the start and Winsome Hanover at the half, it was Winsome Hanover in the backstretch, in the upper turn and the finish line.

Shilling, Bell and Smart Record Event Victories.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT
Marion Star Sports Editor

THE EXPERT, championship-class of three Ohioans, C. I. "Slim" Shilling of Columbus, Hugh Bell of Marion and Wayne "Curly" Smart of Delaware and the closest finish thus far in the Marion Little Grand Circuit meeting highlighted last night's harness racing card at the county fairgrounds before 1,200 chilled, dyed-in-the-wool turf followers.

Marion's Bell, who placed second among the drivers in last season's Circuit meeting here with 16 wins, scored additional victories last night as he drove Lowland Scott, a brown gelding to straight heat triumphs in the third race, the $200, 24 pace. Bell now has nine wins in the 1944 meeting, leating him only three behind Harry Fitzpatrick, top-ranking driver so far. Wayne Smart triumphed with Winsome Hanover, brown filly, in the two heats of last night's feature event, the $1,000 Hotel Harding stake for two-year-old trotters, to raise his meet win total to seven. He is tied with Sep Palin of Indianapolis for third place in the driving lists. "Slim" Shilling upped his victory count to five by steering T. J. Van to two wins in the $300 22 pace, second race on last night's docket.

The victories of Lowland Scott and T. J. were the second in the meeting for those two horses. Bell urged Lowland Scott to straight session wins in last Thursday night's card while T. J. Van, with Shilling up, snared a 21 pace event earlier in the meet.

Abnormally cold June weather was mainly responsible for the smallest turn out yet in the Little Grand Circuit meeting. Only some 1,200 fans were in the stands and along the rail last night but this was still a good crowd in view of the chill-provoking atmosphere.

WAYNE SMART

Smart, Delaware driver, piloted Winsome Hanover to victory in the $1,000 two-year-old trot, feature of last night's Little Grand Circuit racing program.

Something Unusual

It seems that something outstanding, a little out of the ordinary, happens every night in Frank Foster's color-packed Circuit show. Last night it was the tightest finish of the meet and perhaps on any harness race track yet this season.

Three horses, Silver X driven by Gabe Carinal, Lois Vologda piloted by Reardon and Shilling's Silver X patted down the homestretch in the second heat of the 22 pace and crossed the line in a near dead heat. The Judges, Joe McGraw and Associate Wayne Groves not even attempting a naked-eye decision called for a photo on the finish. The first photo was somewhat shaded and the judges didn't even chance a verdict on the stretch of the picture. So they called for another photo. This time, after careful consideration, they selected Lois Vologda as the winner, T. J. Van second and Silver X third.

T. J. Van was ahead at the start of this heat but Green Township, driven by Clark was in the lead at the half, clocked in 1:06½. T. J. Van re-snatched the lead in the backstretch but Silver X surged to the front in the upper turn and he and T. J. Van were head and head going into the homestretch. Lois Vologda began to make a serious bid in the stretch and the three horses pounded across the line in what approximated a dead heat finish. The time, 2:12, was the fastest of the card for the mile distance.

The feature race, the two-year-old trot went only two heats un-

A Michael Horse

Winsome Hanover is owned by Walter J. Michael of Bucyrus. His win last night places Michael-owned horses closer to the starters of C. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill. in the matter of wins in the Marion meeting.

T. J. Van was ahead in all phases on the first heat of the second race. He came in to win by a half length over Lois Vologda. Going into the final heat, it was either Lois Vologda or T. J. Van as victor in the event. Each had marked up a win and a second place finish in the first two heats. T. J. Van led at the outset of the third heat, which went 9-16 of a mile. However, in the backstretch, Green Township was ahead. T. J. Van and Silver X were head and head going into the stretch but T. J. burst across the winner by a half length. Lois Vologda was last in the field of six horses.

THREE-RUN RALLY GIVES SPRINGFIELD WIN OVER MARION

Giants Tally in 7th, To Hand Locals 8 to 4 Defeat, Their Eighth in 9 Games.

Special to The Star

SPRINGFIELD, June 19—A three-run rally in the seventh inning carried Springfield to an 8 to 4 victory over Marion in the first game of their series here tonight.

Jimmy Goodwin, lanky southpaw, went the distance for the Giants and did a creditable job of rationing six hits. Springfield collected 11 bingles off the offerings of Edwards.

The contest was nip-and-tuck during the early innings as both teams took turns gaining the lead. But in the seventh, a walk to Carenbauer, successive triples by Bolick and Walker and Daues' long fly gave the Giants the three runs needed to win.

Springfield added another pair in the eighth for good measure on a double by Daly, Carenbauer's single and Bolick's two-bagger.

Bolick and Walker paced the Giants' attack with three hits, including a triple, double and single.

Moundsmen Continue To Set League Pace

Newark's Moundsmen continued to set the Ohio State league pace today by a three-game margin following last night's 11 to 1 thumping of the steadily-declining Middletown Red Sox. This defeat shoved the Red Sox into fourth place, a few percentage markers behind the Springfield Giants. Lima's Red Birds edged Zanesville in a hitting spree, 12 to 10 last night to strengthen their second place lead to a game and a half. Marion, having lost to Springfield, is now 12½ games away from Newark and still two games behind the fifth place Zanesville team.

McKechnie Thinks His Reds Will Worry Cards

PITTSBURGH, June 20—Manager Bill McKechnie doesn't count his Cincinnati Reds out of the National League pennant fight just yet and it things go the way he plans it's a fifty-fifty chance the Reds will give the red-hot St. Louis Cardinals a rough race right down to the finish.

Of course Deacon Bill has a lot of "if's" his planning depends on and they center mostly around his pitching staff.

Biggest question mark is Elmer Riddle. Last year the right hander won 21 and lost 11 to lead the league but after winning his first two starts this season, he dropped the next two and pulled up with a sore arm May 7.

Indians, Detroit Open Series Today

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 20—Cleveland's Indians open a three-week road trip here today, a tour which Manager Lou Boudreau asserts will decide the club's championship chances.

"If we don't make our move on this trip, it will take a miracle to keep us in the pennant race," the Tribe pilot declared.

The Indians are in seventh place, a single percentage point above the cellar, but are only six games removed from the pace-setting St. Louis Browns. No one club has been able to pull away from the field as yet and any team staging a winning streak could move to the top in a short time.

REPORTS DISSENSION IN PHILLIES' RANKS

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 20 — New reports of dissension, partially confirmed by General Manager Herb Pennock, came today from the National League Phillies—less than a year after their Bill Cox-Bucky Harris troubles were the sensation of the baseball world.

But Pennock, who would say only that "one troublesome player" was creating a problem, made it clear there would be no repetition of last year's developments, which culminated in Harris' dismissal as manager and Cox's subsequent ouster from baseball.

"I'm not the boss on the field but I intend to support Fred Fitzsimmons 100 per cent in whatever he does," said the dapper general manager, who is in active charge of the club during the absence of its 28-year-old president, Sgt. Robert R. M. Carpenter Jr.

He did not name the "troublesome" player nor did he suggest it might be Chet Covington, southpaw relief hurler who was released on 24-hour recall yesterday to Utica, the Phillies' farm club in the Class A Eastern league.

The dissension reports, like last season's actual eruption, came after the Phillies slumped from the first division early in the season to seventh place.

Anton Karl, right hander, presumably will take over Covington's relief chores.

CANDIDATES LISTED FOR POST AS HEAD OF HIGH ATHLETICS

Landis, Guthier and Barker Mention as Successors to Late H. R. Townsend.

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., June 20—Although members of the board of control of the Ohio High School Athletic association have indicated they plan no action for several weeks in the naming of a successor to H. R. Townsend as association commissioner, it was learned today boosts have been started for at least three men.

The three are Paul Landis, director of physical education in the state department of education; George E. Gauthier, director of athletics at Ohio Wesleyan university, and Edgar C. Barker of Duncan Falls, secretary of the Ohio Association of Track Coaches.

Informed sources said several others also are figuring in the unofficial gossip among coaches, athletic directors and school men.

Reports of the booms for Landis, Gauthier and Barker popped into the open Saturday at the all-Ohio college track meet at Ohio Wesleyan—an event which found all three men present.

Landis was reported as declining to comment on his possible candidacy. He has been active in high school athletics for many years.

Gauthier said only "I've heard rumors" when asked about the boom in his behalf. Gauthier has been director of athletics at Ohio Wesleyan for many years and has sponsored and directed the Ohio Wesleyan high school relays each spring.

It was learned that the boom for Barker originated in the Cincinnati area and petitions already have been started urging his selection.

Barker, a stationary engineer at Duncan Falls, was one of the founders of the association of track coaches and has been its only secretary. He also is a football and basketball official in both high school and college competition.

Knox and Tiger Moore To Clash in Armory Bout

Two "equally matched" rasslers, Buddy Knox of Nashville, Tenn., and Tiger Jack Moore of Arkansas will clash in the feature of Les Fishbaugh's weekly wrestling show at the Armory on West Church street Thursday night.

Two semi-finals, going the 45-minute route, have been arranged by Fishbaugh. These will match Cy Larsen of Canton against Steve Nennoff, the bewhiskered Bulgarian from Toledo, U. S. A., and Irish Bill McGee of Cedar Rapics against Angelo Martinelli, Italian from New York, U. S. A. The main event will go two hours and will be decided on the two-out-of-three falls basis. The opening bout will get under way at 8:30.

Epworth Defeats Greenwood 4 to 2; St. Mary Irish Triumph

Epworth's Methodists racked up their second triumph of the Sunday School softball league season with a 4 to 2 victory over Greenwood at Garfield park last night, while St. Mary's Irish had a walkaway in plastering Doug Torrance's Presbyterian team, 11 to 0 at Lincoln park.

Lloyd Hart, in his first season as a regular twirler, limited Greenwood to four hits in winning by an unexpectedly close margin. Leland Thorpe was the losing pitcher for Greenwood although he hurled good ball, allowing Epworth only seven hits. St. Mary pounded out 14 bingles in walloping Presbyterian. Danny McGinnis gave up only four hits to the Presbys, cellar team in the Sunday school circuit last season.

Epworth tallied one run in the second and three in the fourth while Greenwood pushed across a run in the second stanza and another in the third. Leland Kelly, Bob Ralston, Watson and Steve Hanovich accounted for hits in the three-run Epworth fourth and Bob Virden got on base through a Greenwood error. Hart had two hits for Epworth and Ned Roseberry, Greenwood left fielder, collected the same number. Dick Taylor scored for Greenwood in the second inning and John Sutherland in the third. Both Green-

Epworth's Methodists racked up wood and Epworth commit three errors.

Columbus Whittles Milwaukee's Lead

By The Associated Press

Although second-place Columbus whittled the lead of the front-running Milwaukee Brewers to five games, most of the fireworks on the American Association front last night were provided in a stirring 12-inning struggle between the eague's current cellar contenders.

Hero of the overtime battle was 38-year-old Jack Saltgaver, Kansas City third-sacker, whose 12th inning pinch-hit homer with two mates aboard gave the Blues a 6-4 triumph over the host Indianapolis club, thereby according the Tribe basement tenancy by two full games.

The Brewers were victimized by the Colonels, 8-6, at Louisville, while Columbus profitably entertained Minneapolis with an easy 14-4 triumph and visiting St. Paul snapped Toledo's six-game winning streak, blanking the Brood, 6-0.

"Junk Jewelry" Sought for Pacific War Area

At a meeting of the Women's auxiliary to the Marion Navy club last night the national convention held at Kenosha, Wis., the first of June was discussed, plans were made for a picnic in July and a collection of "junk jewelry" was taken up to be sent to the Pacific islands for trade with the natives. Delegates from Marion to the national convention were Mrs. Jean Watt, Mrs. Martha Haines and Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds, commandante, who was elected national commandante at that time. Anyone wishing to contribute to the collection of jewelry, which is sent to San Francisco for distribution to the islands, may call Mrs. Reynolds at 6543 or other members of the auxiliary.

Lions Club Activities for Year Reviewed

John Lacey, president, reviewed activities of the past year at a meeting of the Lions club Monday noon.

New members inducted were John P. McAndrew, sales representative of Brown and Bigelow Co., and Gerhart L. Schleuter, manager of the local social security board.

Letters from members in the service were read. The letters were from Lt. (j. g.) Carl Barchfeld and Cpl. L. L. Van Horn.

Installation of officers will be held at a banquet next Monday evening in the Hotel Harding ballroom with Ralph E. Blaney of Green Springs, O., district governor, as installing officer.

J. E. Oliphant Is Reelected Community Foundation Head

J. E. Oliphant of 476 South Vine street was reelected president when trustees of the Marion Community foundation met last night.

Other officers are: Harold J. Grigsby of 324 Bellefontaine avenue, assistant to the president; Robert E. White, first vice president; Kenneth Fields, second vice president; Miss Edna Dutton, secretary, and E. Paul Bachman, treasurer.

The Marion Community foundation is the controlling organization of a fund raised annually for the support of welfare agencies and other community enterprises.

This meeting was the first for nine newly elected trustees of the foundation. General discussion was held on the annual campaign which will be held in the latter part of October. This year the local drive will be carried on at the same time as a nationwide Community foundation drive. No definite plans have been made for the campaign, but groundwork has been laid in preparation for further arrangements.

RECREATION PLANS

THE city recreation commission is well on the way toward providing Marion with a well-rounded recreation program this summer. A schedule of activities has been drawn up for each of the seven playgrounds included in the recreation program and the city's thousands of youngsters seem to be responding with great enthusiasm and zeal. The recreation commission meeting last night was intended to plan for bigger and better things recreationally speaking this year. Joe Petrich recreation supervisor succeeding Vic Dorris, now in the Army, is working hard to perfect many freely-criticized flaws in the program. Mrs. Pessell, director at Mark street, has found that story telling is popular among the younger set of children who are responding to the recreation program. This tale-spinning every afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Russ Dunlap, playground director at Glenwood school has started a small library. Children who register at that playground are contributing books and magazines. An extensive tennis program is slated to be launched at Lincoln park soon under the direction of Miss Pauline Stannard. Inter-playground activities, such as softball games, will be developed as the program progresses through the summer.

ODDS AND ENDS

A FEW odds and ends:

Volo Song, winner of last year's Hambletonian harness racing classic, was purchased by C. J. Baker, wealthy Illinois owner from Will Strang of Brooklyn, N. Y., for $35,000 last winter. The Song probably will be nominated in some of the big stakes at North Randall track in its Grand Circuit meeting starting next Monday and running 18 days. Volo Song will take part in the $2,500 Matron stake, in which the Ambassador, 1942 Hambletonian victor has also been entered. Most of the track officials, drivers and horses in the Marion meeting will be on hand for the North Randall show. . . . Jack Houpt, who won an "N" at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., for activity in lacrosse, is said to have been high scorer in the Army-Navy game in that sport this year. Despite his top-notch performance, Army came out on top. He also won a numeral in basketball as a plebe . . . Bernie Piest, consistent Zanesville Dodger pitcher in the Ohio State league, hurled a no-hit for Gretna High school in New Orleans last spring . . . Eddie Havens, horse entered in the $1,000 WMRN stake, feature of tonight's Little Grand Circuit racing card at the county fairgrounds is named after the well-known driver of the same name . . . The horse will be driven by Wayne Smart tonight. He is owned by Jolly Joe Neville of Delaware.

WINS MEDAL IN FRANCE

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 20—Lt.-Col. Harry F. Goslee of Columbia, O., a field artillery headquarters commandant, was one of the first American soldiers to be decorated in France in this war. In a ceremony which took place on a field that had been an active battleground only a week earlier, the Ohioan and 16 other commissioned and non-commissioned officers were presented bronze stars by Lt.-Gen. Sir Omar N. Bradley for "meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy."

FIRE SWEEPS LAKE SUMMER COTTAGES

By The Associated Press

VERMILION, O., June 20—Fire fanned by a brisk northwest wind destroyed two cottages and damaged three others extensively at nearby Mittwanga today.

Occupants of the cottages, some in their night clothes, were forced to flee. No one was reported injured. The blaze broke out about 8 a. m.

Fire apparatus from Vermilion, Sandusky, Berlin Heights and Huron responded to the alarm. Employing pumpers, the firemen dropped three hose lines in Lake Erie and two others in cisterns near the flaming cottages.

Fireman Don Hoffman of Vermilion said damage probably would total "many thousands of dollars." He described the structures as "excellent cottages."

Hoffman reported the blaze apparently was caused by a paper-fed fire in the fireplace of a cottage owned by a Norwalk family namer Stratton.

sula," the speaker said, estimating their number at 20,000.

"You are cut off from the main German forces in Normandy by a strong wedge, which has been established by the troops of the Ninth American infantry division. You hope, perhaps, that Rommel is going to relieve you by a large-scale counter-attack from the south.

"But in order to carry out such a plan, Rommel would have to use strong tank formations, and that is out of the question. Rommel's main tank forces consist of four divisions which are engaged in heavy fighting against Allied units in the St. Lo-Caen sector."

The warning, as reported to the OWI, then went on to tell the Germans the American wedge to the sea was being strengthened and that "the further you are being driven back, the more the pocket in which you are trapped and which is surrounded by the sea on three sides, is being tightened, the more your concentrations on troops and vehicles become vulnerable to bombing and strafing by Allied planes and the destructive fire from Allied naval guns."

Friendly Indians Plan Busy Schedule at Y

Friendly Indian activities for younger boys are being scheduled during the summer months. In the next two weeks plans have been made for craft classes, plane model construction and a theater party. Thirty boys have already registered at the Y desk for a newly organized model plane club. Registrations will be taken the rest of the this week.

Bobby Swearingen was elected Chief White Cloud at a meeting of one tribe last Monday.

Scheduled for next Monday is a theater party. Members are to meet at the Y at 11:30 a. m., bringing with them a can of spaghetti and 15 cents. After dinner they will go to the Ohio theater where they will see the picture, "Home in Indiana."

Craft classes are scheduled for 3:30 p. m. this Friday, next Wednesday and Friday, June 30. Moccasins will be made. This class gives boys an opportunity to spend their afternoon making articles that can be used throughout the summer months.

Ample opportunity is being given the boys to escape summer heat. The Y pool was open yesterday and will be open Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p. m. and Saturday at 9 a. m. Next week it will be open to the Friendly Indians Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p. m. and Saturday at 9 a. m.

PLAYGROUND MOVES STUDIED

Location of Some Recreation Centers May Be Changed, Commission Says.

The city recreation commission, in its monthly meeting in the board of education room of the city school administration building Monday night, postponed decision on whether to abandon the Forest Lawn playground as a part of the recreation program and reopen Garfield park as a playground.

The commission decided to wait until next week to take final action on the proposal to close Forest Lawn. If attendance at the playground shows a substantial increase in the next week, it's not likely that it will be abandoned, Joe Petrich, city recreation supervisor said. Attendance thus far at Forest Lawn has been low, and for that reason many Marionites feel that the Garfield park should once again be made a recreation playground, Petrich stated.

Olney Group Present

Present at Monday night's meeting were three women representing the parents of children in the Olney elementary school district. They requested that the recreation commission open a playground at the Olney school inasmuch as an estimated 60 to 75 boys and girls in that area have indicated a desire to take part in recreation activities. The commission gave assurance that efforts would be made to open a playground at Olney.

There is a possibility that the Silver Street school playground might be transferred to Olney since attendance at Silver has ranked lowest in the city.

Representing parents of Olney school district children were Mrs Frank Eylster, Mrs. E. C. Kyle and Mrs. J. W. Matthews. Mrs. Kyle is president of the Olney school P.-T. A.

Welcomes Suggestion

J. D. Torrance, secretary of the recreation commission, stated this morning that the commission was pleased with this suggestion and would welcome such proposals at any time to learn the reaction of Marion citizens to the recreation program.

The commission, of which Robert T. Mason is chairman, was told that new equipment for the city playgrounds will be in shortly. Supervisor Petrich gave a report of attendance at the various playgrounds during the first week of the program and the development of activities for Marion boys and girls.

Week's Playground Attendance 2,658

Attendance at six city playgrounds last week, the opening week in the summer-long Marion recreation commission program, totaled 2,658, Joseph Petrich, recreation supervisor, reported today.

Top turnout was at McKinley park where 710 boys and girls registered. The Glenwood school playground ranked second with 625. Attendance at other playgrounds was:

Lincoln 565, Oakland school 325, Mark street 248 and Forest Lawn 185. Registration report for last week at the Silver street playground has not yet been filed with Mr. Petrich.

Numerous new activities were introduced at the playgrounds last week. A story telling hour at Mark street has proved successful and popular, Petrich said. At Glenwood a safety patrol has been organized to care for recreation facilities. Miss Pauline Stannard, director at Lincoln park, is organizing a tennis program.

Last week an inter-playground softball game was played, with McKinley defeating Oakland, 14 to 2.

COLONEL DIES IN CRASH

By The Associated Press

DALLAS, Tex., June 20—Crash of a twin-engined cargo plane at Love field here yesterday killed Col. Thomas L. Thurlow, 36, one of the army's leaders in the field of navigation. Col. Thurlow, who won national recognition as navigator on board the plane in which Howard Hughes flew to a record-breaking round-the-world flight in 1938, was chief of the instrument and navigation branch of the materiel command at Wright Field, O.

Enrollment for the classes has reached 250 with an average attendance to date of 201. Registration is still open, it was announced.

GALION MAPS BIG JULY 4 CELEBRATION

Special to The Star

GALION, June 20—Tentative plans for the fourth annual Fourth of July celebration to be sponsored here by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, were announced today.

In connection with the Fifth War Loan Drive which is being sponsored by the Jaycees under the chairmanship of Merritt McElroy, an extensive bond selling campaign by the organization during the day, will be a feature. Galion expects to meet the industrial quota easily. The individual quota, $450,000. Jaycees stress the fact that they are backing the invasion to the fullest by going over the top of $1,226,500 in war bonds. They hope to surpass this by $500,000 and thereby sponsor a medium bomber, a hospital service plane, and equipment for an overseas hospital.

Plans for the Fourth celebration are to bring a movie star or national speaker here to add impetus to the campaign for bonds.

The day's program will feature the unveiling and dedication of Galion's new honor roll board which is now under a construction by a Gledhill & Kime of Crestline. To cost $2,500, the 3,000-name board is a five-paneled lighted structure with glass front and brick foundation. It will be erected at the city building.

A parade to end at Heise park where an all western horse show will be held, maneuvers by the soldiers of Camp Millard, Bucyrus, an ox roast during the supper hour and an evening show, are other features of the day.

HUBER CO. GIVES AWARDS FOR SAFETY

One Department Gets Plaque for Nine-Year Record.

Special awards for safety at the Huber Mfg. Co. were made Monday night at a foremen's dinner at Hotel Harding. Harry Shirley, chief engineer, spoke on "The Post-War Outlook" and D. A. Howard, president and general manager, complimented the foremen and their men on "the excellent job they have done during the war period and outlined the post-war plans of the company.

A general discussion followed with comments by several foremen and officials.

The woodworking department was presented a safety plaque for having worked the greatest number of man-hours without a lost-time accident, having not had a lost-time accident since June, 1938. Fourteen departments received certificates of safety for having no lost-time accidents during 1943. The committee in charge included Myron Gibson, A. J. Tower, Guy Coleman, Howard Race and Fred Schultz.

YANKS BATTLE ROCKETS

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 20—The American Ninth air force is producing a new type of fighter "army" among its fliers who have joined the sky patrol waiting to shoot down German rocket bombs. Mustang Pilot Lt. Lewis Powers of Albuquerque, N. M., shot down two and shared another with an RAF fighter last night in addition to one he nailed the previous night.

LIPPMANN

to master the intricacies of the postwar period, and to recover the support of congress. But that question cannot be answered in the abstract; it will be answered in conjunction with the other question, which is, whether Gov. Dewey and the men around him have what it will take to deal better, because they are younger and fresher and are able with the complexities of the settlement and the reconstruction.

They will have to convince the people about that. Along about August and September the common sense and intuitions of the great mass of the people will judge them, not by the words of platform and of their speeches but by the general effect they give of being equal or of not being equal to the historic task.

This popular judgment will, I believe be determined by two criteria: First, the evidence as to whether Gov. Dewey is in genuine control of his party and, therefore, able to mean what he says; second whether he knows what are the questions which the next president is certain to have to answer.

Our people are sensible enough to know that he cannot have all the answers, and would distrust him if he pretended that he did have them. But they are deeply concerned that their sacrifice shall not have been in vain, and they are certain, therefore, to watch intently to see whether Gov. Dewey and his party leaders are aware of what needs to be done, and whether they really have their hearts and minds in it.

WHEAT, RYE LOSSES REACH TWO CENTS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 20—Losses in the wheat and rye market ran more than two cents a bushel at times today on selling that followed the elimination of the Pace amendment from the price control extension bill.

Heavy selling at the opening pushed the market downward in a few minutes and its rallying power was limited. Later trade dawdled at times and market operators showed little inclination to expand the lower trend.

CBS Talent Merged For War Bond Program

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 20—Headed by Fred Allen, the special show CBS is putting on at 10:30 o'clock tonight as the high spot of its all-day Fifth War Loan broadcast, will have at least 11 of the network's regular broadcasters. Title of the program is "The Land Is Bright."

Fred will come from New York and so will Col. Stoopnagle. Hollywood is to have Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra and Conrad Nagel, with Bob Hawk from Washington, Phil Baker from a Long Island factory, Vox Pop's Warren Hull from Detroit, Irene Beasley from an Alabama coal mine, Sgt. Mel Allen from Birmingham and Danny O'Neil from Chicago.

STOCKS TURN LOWER TODAY

First Reaction Sets in After Spurt Taken with Invasion of Europe.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 20—The stock market turned downward today in its first reactionary move since initiation of the sleep pattern advance at the beginning of last week.

Industrial and rail leaders generally backed off fractions to more than a point. Utilities and scattered specialties, bought on the theory they were behind the rest of the market, were a little higher near the fourth hour. Volume fell off rather sharply after a fairly active first hour. Profit selling continued at a lively rate.

Stocks in lower ground included Chrysler, General Motors, Willys-Overland, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, DuPont, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line and Union Pacific.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"WELL soon find out," I told my son in answer to his excited anticipation of what was waiting for us in the secret chamber. Then we were ascending the attic stairs rapidly, switching off the light, fairly creeping through the dark attic by flashlight, going through the chimney stone secret door, and closing it after us. Then, as Junior held me protectively, Roderick swathed on the stair lights, we descended the winding stairs, and Roderick gave the signaling knocks upon the door of the secret chamber.

Opens Door

Hugh opened it immediately and ushered us through. Lee Chow was still lying against his pillows, but with a gleam of excitement in his eyes. There was no trace at all of the other three men, and the faces of the boys fell perceptibly. I knew that they felt cheated, but I also knew that there must be some good reason for the departure of the men, and waited quietly for Hugh's explanation.

"You had better sit down," he said quietly, putting me into a chair so deftly that Junior, who had moved forward instinctively, stepped back with his eyebrows drawn into a somewhat ludicrous frown.

Then Hugh gestured to other chairs.

"And you boys also," he said "This will take a little time."

I saw the faces of the boys light up, and felt my own nerves tingle with excitement at something indefinable, yet stressful in Hugh's voice.

Must Change Plans

"I am afraid our plans will have to be changed materially," he said. "By an unusual piece of luck, 'Mr. X.' had the opportunity to come here and acquaint me with a most important development. I sent him away again with the others, for it is vital that his three associates do not suspect he has left his room since he arrived at it."

He stopped, and I felt that my breath and my pulses were suspended in space somewhere until he should speak again.

"The taxi man Shumway, who brought us here this morning," Hugh resumed, "appears to have told them everything he knows about his passengers, and you, except the fact that our clothes were dripping wet.

"'Mr. X' says," Hugh went on, "that Shumway has at last convinced them that our clothing was dry, although they had reason to expect that we would arrive wet through.

Men Puzzled

"This has puzzled them, and their reception when they came to the farmhouse, together with that letter written in German script which I gave them, have sharpened their suspicions that we are going to double-cross them. Fortunately they appear to be convinced that we did go to New York. But, as a result, they are turning their plans toward you."

"Toward Mums?" Junior exclaimed with alarm in his eyes.

Hugh's eyebrows were contracted into an involuntary frown at the interruption, but his voice was cheerily reassuring.

"We're not going to let anything happen to her, lad," he said, and I was proud of my boy when he lifted his head, looked Hugh in the eyes, and said: "Thank you, sir. I ought to know you wouldn't

Frown Vanishes

Hugh nodded his acknowledgment, his frown vanishing, and then went on swiftly.

"Shumway told the four that you expected to go to New York this morning, and they have taken it into their heads that we have left something vital with you, some paper or object, that you are to bring when you come, because, in their crazed imaginations, we were afraid to carry it on either of our persons.

Two Objects

"They have two objects in view," Hugh said. "They want to trace our whereabouts and movements and they want to find out what you are carrying. If anything. Therefore they have evolved an interesting scheme to get hold of you on that early train, to force you, with a hidden revolver at your coine, to get off the train when it reaches Jamaica, and in the general rush and confusion there, 'spirt' you away.

"Of course," he went on, "we know that they would not have succeeded in their scheme; that in some way you would have outwitted them But we cannot run the risk of unpleasantness, and even a fifty-to-one risk for you. Therefore the train trip is off. I told Charlie Krut so, and he will not come for you tomorrow morning. But I asked Jerry Tyler to come over early as he had planned to do."

I think my face reflected the bewilderment on that of the boys, for Hugh said quickly:

"You are not going to the city tomorrow by train, but you must get there by some other method. That is what we must discuss now."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Dyspepsia

WE TRIED yesterday to establish the argument that the symptoms of chronic indigestion, or dyspepsia—such as sense of fullness, heart burn, lack of appetite and gas are not usually caused by organic disease of the stomach, but are reflexes due to irritation from a point of stimulus far removed from the stomach.

Most of these foci of irritation we argued lie in the individual's habit of life, the lack of adjustment to the ordinary affairs and routine of existence. And for them the best treatment is psychological. If the dyspeptic can be persuaded to take a saner view of his life, his stomach will act in a more normal manner.

There are, however, other causes that are more tangible and physical which we can lump under bad habits and the rest of the treatment of dyspepsia consists in an attempt to control these and reduce their irritations to a minimum. Those we will discuss today.

High on this list come food habits. Many an unhappy person endowed with the gossamer digestive apparatus of a mayfly is toiling through life imposing on his organisms alimentary feats worthy of a mastodon. Hurried meals, irregular meals, big meals, three meals a day, indigestible foods all go to make up the picture.

A diet may be defective in a number of ways: in respect of bulk, of temperature, of fluid content, of excess of irritating substances. A stomach is notoriously tolerant towards temporary indulgences and indiscretions, but their persistence may lead to dyspepsia. It is a common experience to find patients suffering from dyspepsia who have put themselves on a regime which consists mainly of fluids and soft foods which is inadequate in bulk as well as in nutritional balance. There are few diseases of the stomach, aside from ulcer, that necessitate such a diet for more than a few days.

Efficient mastication seems to be a lost art and is no longer pursued with enthusiasm. But the slightest pause for thought would convince many dyspeptics that mastication is the first step in digestion rendering the food soft and more amendable to the digestive juices of the stomach, intestine and pancreas. Many a case of chronic dyspepsia can be dated from the time when all the teeth were pulled and when the subject had to wait weeks for satisfactory dentures.

There is no general agreement as to what constitutes an adequate biting surface, but a useful guide may be obtained by giving a point for each pair of teeth which meet in apposition and two points for a pair of molars meeting at all four cusps. In a normal mouth the total number of possible points is twenty-two and the minimum number for satisfactory mastication is eight, and this must include a pair of molars.

Tobacco and alcohol are bound to be accused by friends and family of the dyspeptic. Physiology, I am reluctantly bound to admit, is on the side of the friends and family. The term gastritis is used quite freely by those who like a definite word or term for their dyspepsia. So far as I have been able to find in a long experience there is no such thing as gastritis, except alcoholic gastritis.

If the continuous use of alcohol on an empty stomach will produce inflammation why will not the occasional use aggravate the symptoms of discomfort in the stomach which in a dyspeptic are always ready to the surface. Tobacco stimulates the vagus nerve and stimulation of the vagus nerve causes extra secretion of hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. J. M.: Would it be serious for a person with a nervous heart to undergo surgery?

Answer: No, on the contrary it would probably do him or her good as it would take the mind off the heart.

A LONG PULL

By The Associated Press

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Hugh Knox, a Steel Creek farmer, has averaged milking by hand 15 dairy cows twice each day for the last 22 years. His record of having not missed a "milking" in 22 years rated a letter of congratulation from W. Kerr Scott, state agriculture commissioner.

EARNS HIGH RANK. Cadet John H. Cushman of Columbia, S. C., is the first captain of the Cadet Corps graduating class at West Point Military academy this June. This is the highest rank attainable by a cadet at the academy. Cushman follows in the footsteps of such other distinguished first captains as Generals Robert E. Lee, Pershing and McArthur.
